Sanitary District Awards Donner Sewer Line Contract

Directors of the Truckee Sanitary District Tuesday night awarded a $348,589 contract to Kirkwood–Bly Construction Company of Santa Rosa for construction of the first half of an interceptor sewer line on the north side of Donner Lake.

A second contract for the second half of the line is expected to be awarded next week to Syblon–Reid of Los Banos which company bid $587,471, following approval of the bid by two agencies of the federal government which are granting approximately 80 per cent of the total cost of the project.

Work is expected to commence in the immediate future so that the sewer system can be operative this year, Fred Hodder, district manager said.

Grants totaling $759,940 have been approved for the local project by the Economic Development Administration and the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration and applications are currently pending for additional funds to complete the $1,151,000 program which will provide a sewer system to serve the entire Donner Lake Area.

The Kirkwood–Bly contract will provide for the installation of the interceptor line from the vicinity of Summit Creek to Loch Leven Lodge, while the Syblon–Reid contract will start at Loch Leven Lodge to State Route 89. These two lines will connect to the existing line that continues east to the treatment plant east of Truckee.

The south Donner Lake trunk line is currently under construction by the Helms Construction Company of Reno.

Woman Dies From Injuries

Mrs. Ollie Mae Essary, 60, Napa, who was injured in an automobile accident at Floriston July 20, died from her injuries last Thursday in a Reno hospital.

The car driven by Mrs. Essary got out of control, crashed into a guard rail and overturned, pinning her and her granddaughter, Sandra Essary, 13, inside.

The victim was enroute to Sparks to visit a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Doxey. She is survived by her husband, a son and daughter, two brothers and the sister in Sparks.

One Man's Opinion

By CARL BRIGGS

How do you turn off a government bureau?

Somebody keeps building more and more dams in this country and it would seem like maybe we have enough dams.

The Bureau of Reclamation and Army Engineers are two prime suspects. Like the Sorcerer's Apprentice, they were programmed to build dams and now we can't shut the blamed things off.

It's conceivable that if somebody doesn't stop them, there won't be any free–flowing streams left anywhere.

There is increased talk now of damming the Truckee, either at Truckee or down near Verdi, and I have yet to hear of any good reason for it, other than keep bureaucratic pots boiling.

There are existing or projected dams on the Truckee's major tributaries, and there is no apparent reason for damming the Truckee again – it is already dammed and its flow regulated at the primary source, Lake Tahoe.

But, if it is so necessary to dam the Truckee, then why wasn't one dam build in the first place, saving the millions that were spent and are being spent on Boca, Prosser, Stampede, and Martis Creek?

There is no finer river left in California than the Truckee. Its scenic beauty, relative purity, and value as a fishery and source of supply cannot possibly be enhanced by building another dam on it. Conversely, much of its intrinsic value is sure to be lost forever.

How do you turn off a government bureau?

Another man was killed a couple of weeks ago on the shortcut at "golf course curve," in Kings Beach.

Northbound traffic has no problem. It's a 25 mile–per–hour residential street, slightly uphill, and traveled for the most part at moderate speeds.

Southbound, however, is a different matter. It's a fairly steep downhill grade off Brockway Summit, with a long straight stretch leading into a deceptive curve – decreasing radius and zero camber.

There is a 40 mile–per–hour sign at the upper end of the final straightaway, and a 25 mile–per–hour sign immediately before the curve in question.

Addition of one more sign 100 yards up the hill might save some lives in the future: "Dangerous Curve."

It is that.

Don Wallis Transferred

Sergeant Donald W. Wallis of the California Highway Patrol Substation in Truckee will be transferred to Sacramento sometime during the month of August.

Wallis, a member of the CHP for 12 years, came to the Truckee Substation from Eureka four years ago. He has been in law enforcement for some 15 years, having been a member of the Sacramento Police Department prior to joining the California Highway Patrol.

Ruben Esparza Finishes Army Supply Course

FT. ORD, CALIF. (AHTNC) – Army Private Ruben M. Esparza Jr., 21, whose father lives in Norden, completed a general supply course July 12 at Ft. Ord, Calif.

During the eight–week course, he received instruction in the maintenance of stock records, receipt and issue of supplies and equipment, storage procedures and Army supply channels.

Summit Group Picnic Sunday At Big Bend

The annual barbecue of the Donner Summit Community Club will be held this Sunday, August 4, at Big Bend campground. Tickets are $2.50 for the steak luncheon, which will be served from Noon until dark, or 50 cents for hot dogs.

Proceeds from the affair go to the club's scholarship fund. Heading the barbecue committee are Ron Sweet, Leo Quinn, John Guthrie and Ken Heinback. For information, call Mrs. Beardsley at 426–3591.

Pvt. Vernon J. Pryer Assigned In Vietnam

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AHTNC) — Army Private First Class Vernon J. Pryor, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred I. Pryor, 675 El Varano Way, Chico, Calif., was assigned to the 199th Light Infantry Brigade near Long Binh, Vietnam, July 6.

His wife, Diane, lives in Homewood.

County Chamber Here Thursday

Nevada County Chamber of Commerce will hold their annual Truckee meeting at noon tomorrow, August 1, at Donner Lake Lodge. All members of Truckee – Donner Chamber of Commerce and interested local citizens are invited to attend.

Tahoe Agency Bill Reaches Congress

WASHINGTON — Congressmen Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson of California and Walter Baring, D–Nev., today introduced legislation to give congressional consent to the establishment of the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency.

The two representatives in Congress serving the Lake Tahoe area, explained that the consent of Congress is required before two states may create a political governmental entity, such as the planning agency, which has received the approval of the legislatures of both California and Nevada.

Congressman Johnson and Baring said that it is mandatory to encourage the wise use and conservation of all resources, including water, in the Lake Tahoe Basin.

"It is found in the compact agreement that the water of Lake Tahoe and other resources of the region are threatened with deterioration which may endanger the natural beauty and economic productivity of the region," congressmen Johnson and Baring declared.

"There is a need to maintain stability between the region's natural endowment and its man–made environment and to enhance the recreational opportunities of the region; it is for this reason that we encourage the establishment of the regional planning agency and seek congressional approval for it," they said.

The legislation reproduces in total the language agreed to by the Tahoe Area Compact Commission and enacted into law by the respective legislatures. Furthermore, the legislation authorizes federal secretaries of interior and agriculture to cooperate with the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency in all matters relating to the resources of the region.

Tahoe Bi-State Agency Approved In Assembly

The California Assembly gave final approval last week to a compromise agreement with Nevada for a regional agency protecting the Lake Tahoe basin.

A 62–to–four vote sent the bill by Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg to Governor Ronald Reagan's desk. He was expected to approve it.

The bill will put into effect the long–sought Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, with members from California and Nevada. Their goal will be to provide for orderly development of the Tahoe area and to halt pollution of the lake, air, and surrounding land.

The bill will continue the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, a body already in existence, which would have the authority to police the basin area which lies in California. It is considered to have stronger powers than the bi–state agency, and its continuance was insisted upon by California conservationists who say the bi–state agency isn't strong enough.

The bi–state compact still must be submitted to Congress for ratification before it can go into operation.

Assemblyman Z'berg said, "I now call upon Governor Reagan to sign the legislation immediately so that we might move to gain early Congressional ratification, which will enable the bi–state agency to begin implementing its vital responsibilities as soon as possible this year."

Retention of the strong California agency with the same membership as that representing the state on the bi–state agency will enable the adoption and enforcement of higher standards applicable only to the California part of the basin whenever the California membership concludes that the total public interest has not been adequately represented in decisions of the bi–state agency, Z'berg said.

Truckee-Donner Chamber Launches Membership Drive

All signals are on "GO" in the current membership drive by committee chairmen of the Truckee–Donner Chamber of Commerce.

Already several enthusiastic firms have tendered their money to chamber manager Tom Dolley. Even a few persons have mailed in the ten–dollar fee for individual membership.

The program for 1968–69 set by the executive board requires strong cooperation of all businesses in the area. Success and achievement of goals will depend greatly on funds solicited. The borchure may at long last become a reality this year and the chamber officers are prepared to put in many hours promoting the area.

Several past presidents of the chamber will make personal calls on businesses which are late in paying their dues. The drive will culminate August 25 with a chamber picnic at Donner Memorial State Park, chairmaned by Lauren Russell.

Dues are being accepted by any of the membership committee. They include Jack Marquette, Jay Price, Daven Morey, Hal Silva, Tom Dolley, Zeph Rose and secretary Pat Tonini.

An executive board meeting will be held August 7 at the Olympic Cafe at 7:30 a.m. The first regular meeting of the chamber will be held at Donner Lake Lodge at noon, August 14.

First Funds Arrive From Senator Teale's State Loan

Truckee Sanitary District has received a check for $228,000, representing the first increment of state loan funds coming to the area as a result of Stephen Teale's Senate Bill 704. There will be two more similar payments in the next four months as part of a total amount of $1,100,000 approved under terms of the bill.

The funds will pay for construction of the South Donner Lake trunk line, which is to be financed 100 per cent by the state loan. The line is currently under construction by R. L. Helm.

Truckee Sanitary District is providing 20 per cent local participation in the North Donner Lake interceptor line, which is being constructed in two segments. The east segment will be built by Kirkwood–Bly, and the proposed constractor for the west project is Syblon–Reid, of Los Banos.

Critically Hurt On Donner Grade

John Morgan, 42, San Francisco, suffered critical injuries to his head and chest at 2:45 a.m. Sunday when his car ran off Interstate 80 just east of the Castle Peak rest area and crashed into a large rock.

Morgan, driving west, was towing a second vehicle and was alone in the lead car. It is presumed by the California Highway Patrol, which made the investigation, that he fell asleep.

BULLETIN: At press time it was learned that the driver of the vehicle died late Monday at a Reno Hospital.

Truckee Boy Earns Degree

Among the nearly 200 students who were awarded degrees during the summer commencement at Chico State College was Kary Daniel Keilhofer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kielhofer of Truckee, who earned his BA degree.

Dr. Robert R. Smith, recently appointed president of San Francisco State College, addressed the graduates and their families and friends in the college auditorium.

Fire Area Land Closed By Governor

CARSON CITY — Gov. Paul Laxalt ordered a partial closure of private and state lands in the Eastern Sierra of Nevada, in the wake of a blaze which destroyed more than 3,000 acres Sunday and Monday.

"We cannot close it completely because people have business in the area," state forester George Zappettini said.

Laxalt, in a proclamation, prohibited:

—Operating vehicles off existing hard surface, gravel or dirt roads in wildland areas.

—Operating vehicles or equipment traveling on or using wildland areas without having at least an axe, shovel and one gallon container of water in possession for use in fire suppression.

—Operating vehicles or equipment in wildland areas without a spark arrestor in accordance with state law.

—Smoking in other than vehicles, established camp grounds or areas of habitation.

—Travel by other than authorized personnel on roads which have been posted as closed by a responsible fire agency.

The Governor said the prohibitions will not apply to designated camps or beaches, places of improved habitation and while traveling on state and federal highways.

Last Chance For Charter Membership

Truckee – Donner Historical Society has announced that charter memberships in the organization will close the end of September. Persons and businesses interested in being included on the founding charter should make application before that time.

Fourteen business establishments in the Truckee–Donner area have joined the society as charter members, and there are over 60 individual memberships. For information and membership applications, call Mrs. Dorothy Fordham at 587–3097.

Council Holds July Meeting

The evening's discussion centered around details of membership and statement of purpose when members of the Placer County Health Council Planning Committee met for their July meeting at Lou La Bonteis Restaurant in Auburn.

Tentative plans were made for a display at the Auburn District Fair and the next meeting was scheduled for Aug. 8.

Those attending the meeting were Dr. Bruce Becker, William Graham, Harry Rosenberry, Joanne Brown, Charles Wisnowski, Velma Lapp, Pat McHugh and J. N. Andregg of the Auburn area; Mildred Montero and Jerry Herzog from Roseville; and Francis Gray of Lincoln.

Tahoma Property Owners Meet

Property owners in the Tahoe Cedars and Wilsons Tracks, Tahoma, are encouraged to attend a meeting this Saturday, August 3, 2 p.m., at Arbutus Camp For Boys, Seventh and Alder Streets, Tahoma.

School Budget Totals Over $2 Million

The 1968–69 budget for operation of the Tahoe–Truckee Unified School District calls for an expenditure of $2,066,822.88.

Of this total, the largest single item is for instruction which will amount to $1,043,450. This includes principals' salaries, supervisors, text books and other expenditures. Salaries of teachers is budgeted at $806,050, while the principals will receive $65,000 and supervisors $28,400.

Health services, including certificated and classified salaries, is set at $11,400.

The operation of the plants is budgeted at $169,200 and the plant maintenance at $64,500. Fixed charges, such as annuity fund, state employes retirement, social security and other fixed charges was set at $122,000.

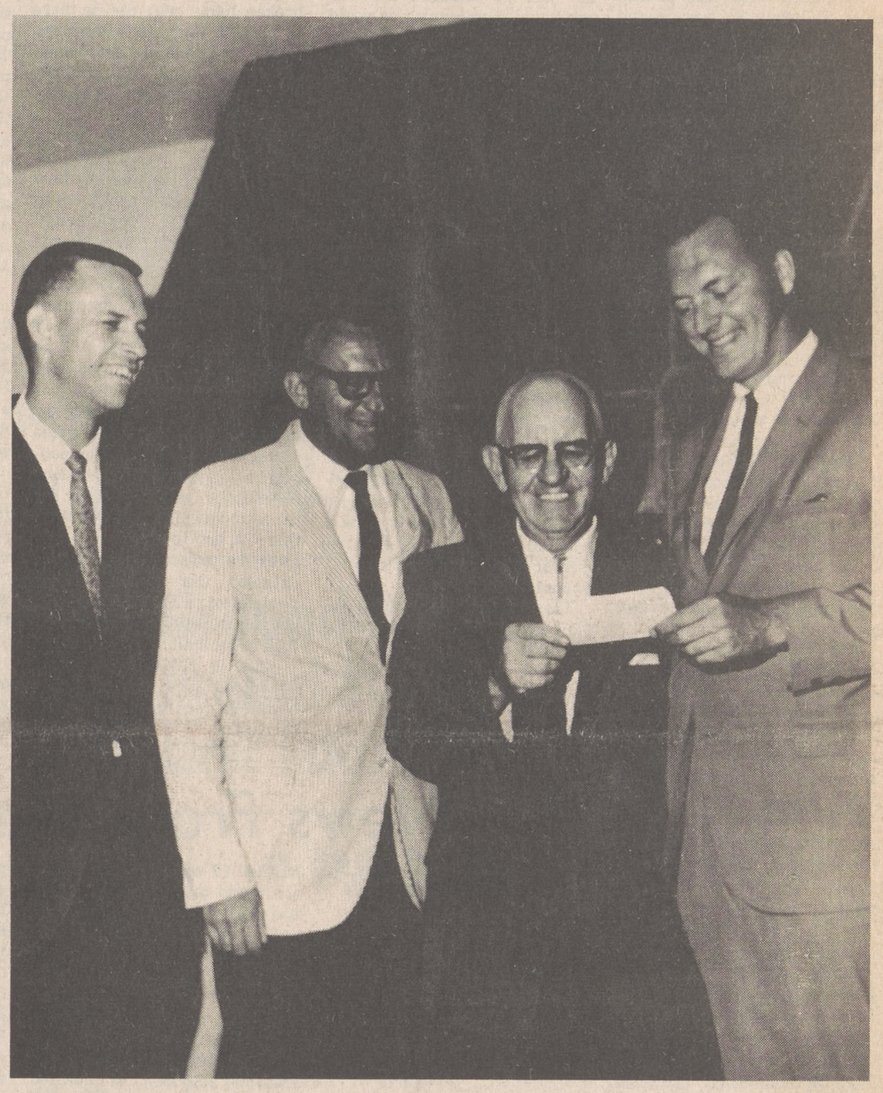
Another major item in the budget is for transportation, with $158,000 fixed for this item.

Food services are listed at $61,500, which includes salaries and meals for needy children. Community services are budgeted at $37,500 with capital outlay (non restricted) at $170,212 which includes improvement of sites, buildings, books and other equipment.

Capital outlay (community services), including buildings and improvement of sites is set at $54,000, making the total capital outlay $224,212.

A public hearing on the budget will be held in the district office at 8 p.m., Aug. 7.

A tax rate of $1.87 will be required to finance the budget. A copy of the entire budget, along with one for the Sierra College, which totals $3,145,737.47, may be found on another page of today's Sierra Sun.



FEDERAL CHECK PRESENTED — A check in the amount of $9,500 was presented to Nevada County last week to launch a program to reduce unemployment in the area. Officials present at the meeting were, from left, Bill Roberts, planning director and coordinator of the OEDP executive committee; Nephi W. Clayton, area coordinator of EDA; Byron Tar, vice chairman of OEDP for Nevada County; Junius Rochester, western area division of EDA. — Sun Photo

Nevada County Receives First OEDP Funds

Nevada county recieved $9,500 to assist in a program under way to reduce unemployment in the county at a meeting of the Overall Economic Development Planning Committee held Monday night in the Soda Springs Hotel.

Junius Rochester, a representative of the Seattle office of Economic Development Administration, presented a check for the amount to Byron Tarr, vice chairman of the county OEDPC executive committee.

Rochester said the check represented the first payment of a $36,422 federal grant to be used to hire a director, assistant director, and secretary to staff a local office to aid the county OEDPC to alleviate unemployment here. The Seattle representative said the director should be charged with making progress reports, finding projects fundable by EDA and other agencies, and with coordinating all local OEDPC activities and projects.

"Nevada County has long shown more than average interest in its future," Rochester said as he handed the payment to Tarr. The Vice–chairman was scheduled to give the money to the supervisors at their meeting this morning.

Rochester explained the county's effort to help itself had resulted in the grant payable quarterly for one year.

He described a report prepared by William Roberts, county planning director as "a good broad report and comprehensive document." It was instrumental in obtaining the aid for the county, according to Rochester.

Fred Hodder, director of the Truckee Sanitary District, and Tarr reported on mechanics of the local OEDPC, Hodder's group already has benefited by a grant as the result of the formation of the county committee.

Hodder said a five–man executive committee and general committees have been formed. Because of the geographical division between the eastern and western portions of the county separate committees will serve each segment. However, their activities will be coordinated.

Tarr told the group the executive committee is meeting twice a month and oftener when needed. He said that a general committee indoctrination meeting composed of three appointees made by each member of the executive committee, the five–man executive committee, and members of the original 15 man general committee is slated for Wednesday night in the courthouse.

The Seattle official noted that such interest in OEDPC is one of the reasons the county received federal financing. He said Nevada county is one of the target areas for budgeting for the 1969–70 fiscal year and that the priority was based in a large part on effort and good leadership in the county.

He said the county is eligible for 80 per cent federal grants for projects geared to reduce unemployment and approved by the EDA.

Nephi Clayton of the Los Altos EDA office urged that cost estimates of proposed projects be prepared and forwarded to EDA officials by mid–August.

The county planning director reviewed efforts of an OEDPC task force, headed by Elizabeth George, which is studying county water and sewer problems with a view toward working out priority projects in order to make application for aid by early 1969. Miss George is a member of the five–man executive committee.

Meanwhile, the executive committee is seeking a qualified executive director to head its office to be established in Grass Valley. The deadline for applications to be received for the paid position is July 31. The executive committee will screen prospects, but the final choice lies with the supervisors and the EDA.

Some of the qualifications for the proposed position as outlined Monday night are experience in economics, understanding of government agencies, a political sense, and ability to talk to the community at all levels.

Approximately 25 persons representing the county OEDPC, the task force studying water and sewer problems, a Reno engineering firm, the Truckee Sanitary District, a Truckee contracting firm, Roberts, and the EDA officials attended the session.

Post Office Window Resumes Normal Hours

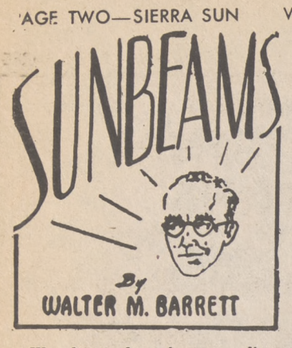
Truckee Postmaster Luise McCallen has announced that normal Saturday window times, 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon, will be resumed August 3 and will continue until further notice.



We have heard some discussion relative to the recommendation by the auditors of the Truckee Public Utility District that the water service rate be increased from $4.50 to $6 a month minimum in Truckee. Because of the advancing costs of maintaining and extending the service and the necessity for improvements, this does not seem to be out of line. A couple of dimes a day does not seem exhorbitant for this commodity.

Recent improvements, including the intertie which provides adequate water supply for all domestic purposes in all parts of the district, as well as assuring maximum fire protection was a costly project, but one deemed absolutely necessary in this growing community.

Additional costs are necessary in providing new mains and expanding the services and these costs must be paid by the users. It is readily understandable that the water department must pay for itself instead of depending upon the electric department as has been the case in past years.

Regardless of the cost, it must be admitted that the Truckee district has the finest, clearest and most drinkable water that can possibly be found anywhere. There may be cities and communities where water is less expensive to the users, but the comparison of quality and quantity will certainly show Truckee high on the list.

The forest fire at Carpenter Ridge recently bears out the fact that this is a very critical year for fires. Almost within minutes, the tiny blaze had swept over 200 acres of timberland, defying the efforts of 300 men and equipment to halt it.

While the cause is still undetermined, it may have started from a spark or a carelessly discarded cigarette or match. It behooves everyone to use the utmost caution while anywhere in the forests. An uncontrolled forest fire is a horrible thing and the only way they can be prevented is by seeing they do not start.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

Recently, many of my friends and former students have asked me why I have not re-applied for the girl's physical education position at Tahoe-Truckee High School.

Here are the facts.

The current physical education teacher resigned this spring. I applied directly to the superintendent of schools, John Corbin, for the position I once held. He informed me that another faculty member would assume the duties as full-time physical education teacher. Just as the school year terminated, this same teacher resigned her position.

Immediately upon hearing this, I once again applied directly to Mr. Corbin for the job. I was then informed that he had already let a contract to another applicant. The woman involved has only one more year of teaching experience than I.

I was stunned by his treatment of me. I appealed to school board members for justification in this matter. The board members had not ever seen my application or did they they know I was interested in the job. I attended the next two board meetings which would deal with the approval of the contract Mr. Corbin had already let. The board members could in no way help me. It is written in Mr. Corbin's contract that he may hire any teacher without school board approval.

For those with whom I am not acquainted, I feel the following facts are important so you may better understand my position. For three generations my family has resided in the Truckee area. I was born in Truckee in 1937 and educated at our local schools. I received a Bachelor of Science degree in education at the University of Nevada in 1959. I taught high school in Colorado for two years before returning to Truckee.

In 1961 I married Fred Haswell of Auburn. We purchased our home in Truckee and I planned to continue my teaching career at Tahoe-Truckee High School.

I taught girls physical education at Tahoe-Truckee during the 1963-64 term.

I am the only graduate of Tahoe-Truckee to ever return and teach here.

I resigned my position when my contract terminated as I would give birth to our second son that fall.

The information stated above is factual. Now let me state an assumption which is shared by a great many people in our community. As my qualifications are as good or better than any other applicant for this position, would it not seem Mr. Corbin has some personal prejudice against me?

If you share my feelings, please contact a board member or attend the next board meeting.

Mary Ann (Tonini) Haswell

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

After reading your fine column in the July 17 paper, I and many, many of my friends and acquaintences agree that you should have it published in either a Sacramento paper or a San Francisco paper.

Most of these gullible people following Mayor Alioto's orders like meek lambs do not realize how much of their freedom and rights are being taken away day by day, not only by Alioto but many others like him.

These people will not be there to protect your home when it is broken into; will not be there to protect your life's business when a criminal decides to break in and not only rob, but kill at the least bit of resistence.

What if, and this is not an impossibility, our country is taken over by an enemy! How simple it would be for them to get this list of "registered" guns and collect them at the homes, in the process probably killing occupants of said home.

This is what our country has fought for in the past – "Bill of Rights," "Constitution," all the freedoms we fought with England for – a free people and country? I think we are going backwards in a lot of ways.

England is against our people having guns also. Did Jack the Ripper need a gun to kill as many people as he did? Was there a law to register knives after he committed his many crimes? Our automobiles are registered but look how many people are killed by autos. Does this make them safe?

This is just the chance the criminals are waiting for — everyone turn in their guns but the hoods.

Surely adults are not that trusting to believe that Alioto and his police force can be everywhere to "protect" them?

Also, the article you had in last week's paper – field and stream column written by Mr. Haskins, is an excellent article. Many people in the bigger cities need to read this type of article and be made to think a little on what can happen to us and our country.

There will always be killings as long as there is hate in the world, and this hate caused in part by some of our politicians and government officials.

Keeping guns out of the hands of aliens, youngsters, demented persons, criminals – yes, but to completely abolish guns is not the answer, or even registering every type of gun.

Surely, your article would incite in other hunters and gun collectors a desire to fight these so – called do-gooders, protectors of the people, etc.

Thank you for reading my letter.

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

I have written a book about the old mining town and district of Meadow Lake, in Nevada County, and I am looking for pictures and maps to put into it. As I am sure you know, the place caused considerable excitement in 1865 and 66 and was in the news for years thereafter. A good many citizens of Truckee went up there, and the Truckee Republican ran many stories about Meadow Lake.

Do you know of anybody in or around Truckee, or anywhere else, who has pictures of the region, either new or old? What I should like, of course, are shots of the town as it was when it was new, but I suppose they would be hard to find.

When I was working in the Bancroft Library at Berkeley, I found that a couple of Cisco photographers named Antrim and Denney had taken pictures of the town, but I have no idea where they are or even whether they still exist. Did you ever hear of these people?

I am appealing to you because of my belief that newspapermen are knowledgable about all sorts of things. If you can give me any leads, I shall be grateful.

(Editor's Note: Former publisher Walter Barrett suggests you contact the state library in Sacramento. While Truckee Republican files were destroyed by fire several times, those still in existence can be found at the library. Photographs, however, are a different matter, and Mr. Barrett doesn't recall ever seeing any of Meadow Lake. Good luck with your search.)

I am enjoying Ernie Riley's weekly articles in the Sun.

He is a very busy man at his service station in Squaw Valley, but he is never too busy to lend a helping hand or to give a word of advice or cheer.

He has received some very wonderful letters and personal thanks for his added courtesies.

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

Let me first explain that I have no objection to the increase in water rates contemplated by the Truckee Public Utility District as recommended by the auditors. If additional revenue is required to maintain and expand the service, the increase may be necessary.

However, I do oppose the current method of charging. As an apartment house owner, I am required to collect a minimum rate of $4.50 a month from each of my tenants, although a single metered service line provides for all the apartments.

This method is not used in servicing mobile homes and trailer courts. There a single charge is made to the owner for the entire court and the owner can either collect what he wishes from his tenants or make no charge at all, simply paying the district for the single billing. Thus, occupants of the courts and mobile homes may pay one, two or three dollars a month and use more water than the apartment house renter who has no lawns and his use of water is usually far less than in the courts.

I believe that a plan of equalization of rates charged, with each individual user paying for water used, should be adopted by the district and then if more revenue is needed an additional equalized charge should be made.

A Balance Of Nature

By Ernie Riley

Too often we read, see, or hear of cases of child abuse, beating, and even burning. There seems to be so many children in homes where they are not wanted or needed. It's hard to understand an adult who would harm a defenseless child.

On the other hand we have several families in our neighborhood who not only love children but do something to help as many little unfortunates as possible.

John and Doris Chisholm live in Squaw Valley. They have two children of their own and three adopted children. John is in his early forties, quiet spoken, hard working, and quite handsome. He is Scotch-Irish, born in New York. Doris is in her middle thirties, outgoing, very lovely, and a real mother. She is half Eskimo and half Swedish-Finish, born in Alaska. Their two daughters, Machele, 10, and Heidi, eight, are very well behaved and lovable little girls, both born in New York.

This would seem to be an ideal family, but not enough for John and Doris. They have adopted another little girl and two boys. Heather is two, a mixture of French, Italian, Dutch, Irish, Cherokee and Apache. Colin is one; English, Irish and Yugoslavian. Brad is four months; English, Irish and Bohemian.

Mrs. Chisholm, when asked why they were adopting these children, answered. "Strictly selfish — because we get so much from them."

We are sure that with love such as this, everyone gains in this balance of nature.

Gene Chappie's Corner

By Assembly Eugene Chappie

Long-suffering property taxpayers are about to be offered an alternative. Philip Watson, the Los Angeles County Assessor, has come up with a "property tax limitation initiative" which will appear on the November ballot.

There is nothing complicated about what Watson has proposed. If the initiative is approved property tax imposed for government services other than education and welfare will be limited to one percent of market value as of July 1, 1969. And no property tax could be imposed for education and welfare after July 1, 1973.

The effect would be to make an unpopular tax insignificant as a source of revenue for local government. Watson correctly points out that California property taxes are among the highest in the nation; that they continue to increase at a dizzy pace; that the burden of these increases often falls most heavily on persons who can least afford it – the lower income groups and the elderly.

I have strongly supported efforts to relieve the property tax burden and in fact my bill, AB 1590, is the major property tax legislation of this session of the legislature. I should, however, point out that there is no real way to get rid of one tax without increasing another; and the Watson initiative does not indicate where the substitute revenue for major programs such as education would come from. Two alternatives are presented in making up the loss from property tax revenues if the Watson plan passes: (1) Double or even triple income taxes, (2) Increase the sales tax to approximately eleven cents on the dollar plus adding this tax to food and other non-taxable items.

Another problem with the Watson Initiative is that both homeowners and renters would actually pay more taxes if the limit on property tax were approved. Only 30.2% of the total property tax in California is paid by owners of single-family homes, but 70% of the state sales taxes are paid directly by consumers. Thus if sales tax were increased to replace property tax revenues, more of the total tax burden would be shifted to the individual. And if the income tax were used to raise replacement revenues this shift would be felt all the more.

Possible negative effects on our political system should also be considered. Property tax is the key source of revenue at the local level, and without it cities and counties would be forced to compete for a share of revenues collected by the State, and ultimately this could destroy the tradition of home rule.

In deciding how to vote on the Watson initiative, therfore, it would seem that Californians must choose between two types of pain, recognizing that the only real alternative to increasing taxes is governmental economy – a reduction in spending and/or a reduction in services.

Planners Consider Petitions

Five local applications were considered and disposed of at last week's meeting of the Nevada County Planning Commission, Francis Longo, Truckee-Donner representative on the commission, reported.

The second hearing on an application by the Ponderosa Palisades for a commercial unit was recommended for approval to the board of supervisors.

A use permit application by Dr. John Coyle for a single-family dwelling in a commercial zone at Donner Lake was approved subject to will of the area sanitarian.

The Sha-Neva Trucking Company was granted a permit to maintain three mobile home units on their property for a period of five years.

An application for a use permit by Dr. William C. Ruback and others for construction of a five-bedroom house at Donner Lake was continued.

Map of variances at Ski Town on Donner Summit was conditionally approved by the commission.

Wrestlers Get Ready

Truckee – Donner Recreation and Park District, in conjunction with Sierra College, will be sponsoring a wrestling clinic at Tahoe-Truckee High School on August 7 and 8. John Horillo, head wrestling coach at the college, will head the clinic.

Five wrestlers from Sierra College will assist with the training session, and Bob Stein, local coach, will help.

Application for the clinic may be made at the recreation district office in Gateway. While the course is free, a $1 charge is made to cover insurance costs.

Practice Good Driving Rules On Vacation, Ledford Advises

"It's a temptation, when starting on a vacation, to forget about all rules and try to be carefree. But don't do it," Lt. Ledford, Truckee Area Commander of the California Highway Patrol, advised this week.

"The maximum speed limit in California is 65 miles per hour, except for a limited number of freeways that are posted for 70 miles per hour, and these speed limits were adopted for protection of the drivers. No one realizes better than members of the California Highway Patrol, who have witnessed the tragic results of high speed accidents, that the carefree or powerful feeling that some people experience when driving at high speeds isn't worth its cost in lives and injuries. There's no faster way to die than in a high-speed accident!"

The CHP official added this suggestion: "To have a really carefree vacation, check your car's safety equipment in advance of the trip, study the road maps for recent route changes, observe the directional signs on highways and freeways, and observe all traffic regulations, including the speed laws. You'll be less tense on the road, less apt to have an accident or mechanical trouble, and more rested when you arrive at your destination."

Local Golfers In Tournaments

Twenty-nine members of the Ponderosa Golf Club played in a Scotch six some recently, with Harvey Hopkins and Mike Ellis taking first place with a 22 net score. Second with net 23 were Andy Garson and Hazel Stewart.

Charles Carroll and Leah Hopkins took third with net 24. The match was followed by a barbecue and associated refreshments attended to by Lauren Russell, Jack Ellis, and Nick Comola. The next Scotch six some is scheduled for August 4.

Women members of the club participated in a First and Second Best-Ball Tournament July 23, at the Ponderosa Golf Course. Team first place was won by Norma Russell, Marg Walker, and Bea Garson with a net 142.

Nevada Law Agency Backed By Washoe DA

RENO – A state law enforcement planning agency – set up under the new Crime Control Act – has been urged for Nevada by William Raggio, district attorney of Washoe County and Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate.

In a letter to Nevada Gov. Paul Laxalt, Raggio noted that under the act, the administration is authorized to make grants to states which have comprehensive state plans approved by it.

Any state wishing to participate must make application for the establishment and operation of a state law enforcement planning agency within six months of the date of the enactment of the act.

Up to 90 per cent in federal funds may be available for establishing the agency.

In his letter to Laxalt, Raggio said, "I think it is extremely important that Nevada take advantage of these provisions. Each state is eligible for $100,000, and the remainder of the funds are allocated to relative populations.

"I do not know what provision can be made for the 10 per cent (or more) matching funds which must be provided by the state, but it is apparent that any grant for a planning agency will undoubtedly have to be made prior to the convening of the next legislature.

"I would suggest that some plan be formulated as soon as possible to take advantage of these provisions."

Another Term As Chairman

CRYSTAL BAY — W. S. Meneley, Douglas County commissioner, has been reelected chairman of the Tahoe Regional Planning Commission of California and Nevada.

Other commission members reelected were: Frank Souza, South Lake Tahoe city councilman, co-chairman; and John Meder, Ormsby County commissioner, secretary-treasurer.

The commission's technical advisory committee was directed to study what basinwide help the commission can give the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency during this interim period when the agency has no funds for staff investigation.

LAKE ECHOES

BY BETHEL

Tricia Holley, wife of Lee Holley of Incline Village, was the guest of honor at a baby shower Friday afternoon at the home of hostess Virginia Hill and co-hostess Betty Facciolla.

Guests enjoyed a champagne buffet luncheon at tables beautifully decorated with pink carnations and baby's breath with baby-buggy nut cups. Among those present were Barbara Phillips, Delight Howard, Dolores Gann, Beth Chamberlin, Joan Mally, Lee Cunningham, Melinda Santasoussa, Virginia White, Jean Kuckhoff, Gwen Wood, Ann Tiller, Virginia Durnerin, Trudi Malley, Helene Batt, Dorothy Warrington, Pat Koskey, Darlyn Knorpp, and from Reno, Olive Holland, Marlie Tessler, Toni Lowden and Millie Adams.

Vera Mosier of Crystal Bay was given a surprise birthday party for her 80th birthday on July 27 at the Fireside Room of the Methodist Church at Kings Beach by members of the WSCS. Sharing Vera's day with luncheon and cake were Pearl Draney, Carmen Cummings, Louise Walter, Eda Judy, Hylda Ross, Marian Meuller and her guest, Emma Pritchard, Helen Chanda, Ethel Preston, Vi Barnett, Alice Hall, Faye Deane, Louise Anderson, Adeline Gunkel, Jean Little, Fran Thompkins and Marguerite Ashton.

Pictures of Kenya taken at Christmas while Vera was on her round-the-world cruise were shown. The WSCS presented Vera with a plant and card tree.

Benny Ferrari is at home with his parents, Nora and Ben Ferrari, at Kings Beach after serving with the Army in Vietnam. He will leave shortly for Fort Bliss, Texas, for reassignment.

* * *

Charles Hooper, son of Ceta and Harry Hooper of Kings Beach and Reno, celebrated his 15th birthday on July 22. A family party celebrated the occasion.

* * *

Larry Peluso of Oakland is visiting his sisters at Incline Beach, Theresa Sutton and husband, Tom, and Jerry Rayburn and husband, Johnny.

* * *

Raymond Chapman of Incline Village was hospitalized last week after a collision at Crystal Bay with Orville Curtis and son, Scott, of Fremont. Both the elder Curtis and Chapman were hospitalized at Washoe Medical Center in Reno.

Janet and Chapman Wentworth of Incline were released from Washoe Medical Center after their recent accident and are at home.

* * *

From the Isle of Man are Mrs. Effie Quayle and Mrs. Emily Ostick who are visiting lifelong friends, Mrs. Forrest Eccles and Miss Hilda Kelly at Crystal Bay. All four were born on the Isle of Man and have visited one another over the years. After touring California and the northwest through Canada, the visitors will leave from Tahoe to return to London via Vancouver.

Actress Doris Day could not ask for better publicity than she is getting from Gen Southern —"Doris Day's double," as she is known to friends. Gen and daughters, Tonia, 17, and Andria, 15, are vacationing at Incline from Port Arkansas, Texas, after touring California. She is an outgoing, busy, career woman, who does not overlook fun with her family, which also includes one wooly monkey and six toy pomeranians which were left in Texas.

Gen's hobby is writing, but it would take a book to cover her many activities. A vital, interesting gal, and we hope she will return to Tahoe for a longer visit next time.

Christine and Jason Clark of Berkeley are visiting their father, Hewitt and wife, Sharon, at Incline Village for the month of August.

* * *

Pat and Tom Koskey of Incline Village are entertaining Pat's mother, Mrs. Roger Stapleton of Gilroy, Mrs. Elmer Steinmetz and Pat's aunt, Mrs. Ambrose Gorman and son John, of Sycamore, this week.

* * *

Joan and Daryl Williams of Crystal Bay enplaned to Seattle last week on a combination business-pleasure trip.

* * *

Marlene and Jim McCourry of Incline Village entertained Jim's sister, Juanita Wood, of Oklahoma City this past week. Mrs. Wood also visited with son Pat and wife Joyce while at Incline. Accompanying her from Oklahoma City was her niece Martha.

* * *

Ruth Mizner is visiting friends at Tahoe from her home in Nebraska. She was accompanied to Tahoe by her daughter, Gwen McGrew and children Scot and Matt of San Jose.

* * *

Martha Bernard of Crystal Bay assisted at the summer camp for 120 girls from the Reno-Sparks area which was held at Skylandia at Lake Forest this past week. Martha was one of the volunteer nurses at the camp. Camp director was Sister Eva and Sister Ida was the superior, both originally from Hungary; Nevad Lambert of Empire was swimming instructor with Irene McCormick in charge of crafts. The Sisters of the Sacred Heart from Los Angeles organized and operated the camp which also had 16 teenage counselors from the Reno area.

Crafts, games, swimming, boating, hiking and nature walks as well as spiritual training occupied the girls. The Sisters are now in Reno for a two-week religious vacation school.

Paul Clotfelter, son of Artis and Leonard Clotfelter of Tahoe Vista, celebrated his 11th birthday on July 28. Sharing birthday cake and goodies with Paul were Daniel, Diana and David Head, Gary Ruckheim, Scott Wilson, Sam Pennino, Jack Johnson, Tracy Merchant, John Allen, Tami Rich, and sister, Twyla and brother, Bruce.

* * *

The Clotfelters have as their houseguest Leonard's mother, Blanche Clotfelter of Loomis. Come September 1 the family will be located in a new home and position at Roseville.

* * *

Vivian and Harry McIntire of Tahoe Vista are the proud owners of a plaque presented them by the Martin Fallandy family of Canoga Park. The plaque was made of a copper rivet and a piece of brightwork from the old ship, Nomad. The Nomad plied the waters of Tahoe as late as the 1950s and was built about 1907. For many years prior to its being wrecked it was docked at Tahoe Vista. This was a thoughtful gesture and makes a marvelous souvenir for the confirmed Tahoeites who relish the historical relics of the area.

* * *

Ellen Dennis, Sr. and Jr., of Santa Paula are enjoying a month's vacation at Tahoe Vista. Ellen Jr. attended the Kings Beach school during the time they lived at Agate Bay.

Mildred Douglas of Los Angeles spent a week's vacation at Tahoe Vista with her mother, Theresa Denton. Accompanying Mildred was her friend, Monica, who is visiting from Germany.

Jean and Ray Kimbrough of the Highlands entertained as their guests her brother and his wife, Don and Aileen Wagner of Bentonville, Arkansas, and Mrs. Wagner's brother, Kenneth Allum of Siloam Springs, Arkansas.

* * *

Bill Beaman, son of Marge Walker of Tahoe Vista, is now stationed in Vietnam with the Army.

* * *

Weekend guests of Dean Phillips of Tahoe Vista were Dorothy Dioguardio and daughter, Diane, of Sacramento and Bethel Van Tassel of Reno.

* * *

Rev. and Mrs. Jim Hutchinson and daughter Dale of Kings Beach, were invited to Reno as guests of Dale Evans and Roy Rogers.

The Hutchinsons met them back in 1954 while all were there for a Billy Graham crusade.

Dale Evans and Roy Rogers and their show have been appearing at Harrah's in Reno for a very successful engagement — in fact, it was a tremendous show!

* * *

Eda Judy of Kings Beach enjoyed a visit from her daughter, Mrs. B. C. Bill and son Carlton of Sacramento and grandson Buren and great-granddaughters Betty and Burnette this past week.

Lake Drowning

Memorial services were held in San Francisco Tuesday for Bethune M. Ireland of Atherton, a telephone company executive who presumably drowned in Lake Tahoe off Crystal Bay Point.

Ireland fell July 18 from the stern of a boat owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Rickey of Incline Village.

He is survived by his wife, a son and a daughter.

Kings Beach Ferrari Family Holds Reunion

This past week the Benjamin Ferrari family of Kings Beach gathered for a reunion at the Crown Motel, and quite a reunion it was: 19 members were there.

There is no great measure of difficulty in having 19 members in a family until one realizes that grandmother Mary Gardella of Reno had only one child, Leonora Gardella Ferrari.

Benjamin Ferrari and Leonora Gardella were married at St. Thomas Aquinas Cathedral in Reno in 1935 and their family includes Marilyn, Robert, Benny, Mary, David and Theresa.

Marilyn, who attended Bishop Manogue High and the University of Nevada, is Mrs. Carl Schaff of Incline Village. She and husband Carl, principal of the new Incline High School, have six children, Mark 9, Ricky 8, Jennifer 7, Carl Jr. 6, Jacquelyne 5, and Benjamin 2.

Robert is Major Robert G. Ferrari of the Army Corps of Engineers, leaving on a tour of duty in Vietnam for one year. Bob is a graduate of the University of Nevada School of Engineering and has a masters degree from Oklahoma State. He and wife Audrey, of Yerrington, Nevada, have four children, Robert Jr. 8, Danny 7, Marisa 4, and Michael 4 months.

Benny is a first lieutenant in the infantry and has just returned from Vietnam. He is a graduate of Tahoe-Truckee High School, the University of Nevada, and was attending the Santa Clara School of Law before entering the army.

Mary, a '68 graduate of Tahoe-Truckee High, will be attending Chico State in September.

David 13, and Theresa 11, are both outstanding students and musicians at Kings Beach Elementary School.

Besides having time to raise a family and being the wife of a successful motel owner, Mrs. Ferrari teaches fifth grade at the Kings Beach School. Last year the Truckee-Donner Junior Chamber of Commerce honored Mrs. Ferrari as "teacher of the year."

Is it any wonder that Mary Gardella, mother and grandmother, is proud?

Booked On Theft Charge

SAND HARBOR – Gary L. Long, 25, Burbank, Calif., has been arrested by Washoe County Sheriff's deputies on a charge of second degree burglary in connection with car burglaries here.

A week ago $1,000 in valuables were reported stolen from seven vehicles parked in the area. Burglaries continued through the weekend.

Lucky Stores Break Ground

TAHOE CITY — Lucky Stores has been issued a Placer County building permit for a 27,000 square-foot supermarket at the junction of California 89 and 28 in Tahoe City.

The building is valued at $468,550. Ernest Hahn of Sacramento is the general contractor.

Grading work has begun. The building is expected to be completed by late fall or early winter. It will be the second supermarket in Tahoe City, and when it is completed Tahoe City will become the only community on the north or west shores of Lake Tahoe to have two large chain grocery stores.

LUCKY MARKET COMES TO LIFE – First stirrings of activity last week in Tahoe City marked beginning of construction on new 27,000-square-foot Lucky Market at the junction of highways 89 and 28; Ernest Hahn of Sacramento is the general contractor; market is expected to be completed by late fall. — Sun Photo.

Donner Hill Climb Coming Up

All sports car fans are invited to test their driving skills this Saturday and Sunday on the Donner Grade Hill Climb, slalom and road rally.

Under the auspices of the San Joaquin Conference National Council of Mustang Clubs and Ford Motor Company, one hundred drivers are expected to compete in the controlled runs. The hill climb starts at the bottom of Donner Grade at Donner Lake at 8 a.m. Saturday. The slalom will be staged at Boreal Ridge parking lot also at 8 a.m. Saturday. Both will continue all day. Sunday, the road rally will include many miles of spot checked driving over an area including Prosser Lake and the Truckee Airport.

Entries are open to all applicants in 28 various classes, not just to Mustang car owners. Over 70 trophies will be meted out. Entry fees include $3.50 for all events or $2.00 for a single, but entries close at 2 p.m. Saturday at Donner Spitz Inn on the summit.

Feature social event is the Barn Dance open to everyone Saturday night at the Spitz Inn.

According to Elaine "Buzz" Devoy, conference prexy, several clubs from all over Northern California will compete. He is assisted by Garry Balbey and Bruce Eckler, vice chairmen of the Mustang hassle. Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the classic which bases its points on driving technique rather than speed.

Cutthroats, Trout By The Millions Fed Into Hatchery

GARDNERVILLE — Manager Edward Horn reports nearly a million cutthroat and rainbow trout fingerlings are being fed at the Lahontan National Fish Hatchery now in its second year of operation a few miles south of here.

Horn said the figure is several times greater than the number of fish reared at the hatchery last year and will allow planting of about 400,000 trout next year.

From about 600,000 cutthroat and 200,000 rainbow now in brood ponds, in addition to several thousand more still too small to be identified, slightly less than half that number is expected to reach planting size early next season. The remainder will be held for later plants.

Cutthroat will continue to be stocked only in Pyramid and Walker Lakes since they are the only trout able to survive in the increasingly saline waters of both lakes where they thrive.

Rainbow will be planted in several western Nevada lakes and streams, Horn added.

Attorneys Meet At University

RENO — A hundred highway attorneys from all parts of the United States are expected to attend a workshop on highway law which began Monday at the University of Nevada.

The four-day meeting starts at 9:30 a.m. in Jot Travis Student Union Building.

Sponsoring the sessions are the Highway Research Board, Washington, D.C.; the university; and the Nevada Highway Department.

Colin Campbell Chosen Director

From San Lorenzo comes the report that Colin Campbell, for many years a resident of Truckee whose family were pioneers, has been unanimously chosen as a director of the Oro Loma Sanitary District.

Campbell was chosen to replace W.E. Winterbourne, whose status as a director has been in doubt since he left the community a month ago. Campbell conducted an unsuccessful campaign for a board seat in the June primary election, although he collected an impressive 10,868 votes.

The new director will serve the two years left on Winterbourne's term.

FRANKIE FANELLI — The handsome Italiano with the romantic manner and the golden voice continues to entertain nightly in the Stage Lounge of the Crystal Bay Club, on the North Shore of Lake Tahoe. Alternating with Fanelli is the rocking, rollicking musical comedy show of Big Tiny Little.

Placer Tax Rolls

A figure in excess of $180 million was given by assessor Frank J. Chilton as the combined total secured and unsecured tax rolls in Placer County. The amount, $180,485,783, was described by Chilton as representing an increase of $10.5 million over last year.

The secured roll was given as $170,218,021.

Last Week At Nugget For Pat Boone

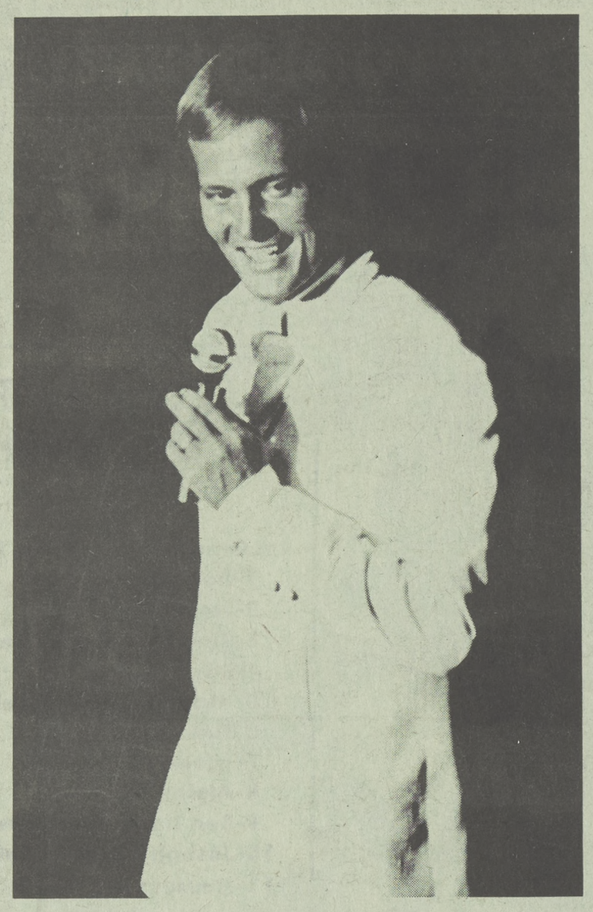
Crooner Pat Boone and zany comic John Byner conclude their smashing 3-week stint in John Ascuaga's Nugget August 7, making room for the trumpet blasts of dynamic Al Hirt opening August 8.

Establishing tremendous audience – entertainer rapport from the very beginning, Boone enters the Circus Room from the rear entrance, illuminated from reflected spotlights, and pauses at tables to meet people, shake hands and deliver his tunes with feeling to an entranced house.



PAT BOONE

The family favorite presents a short medley of his most successful songs, compares modern song styles to those of the past, and then moves to the edge of the stage, sits down, and sings to and speaks with the delighted audience.

An engrossing, spiritual Boone keynotes audience participation as the house swings and sways with clapping hands and tapping feet. Throughout his career, Boone has been a model of integrity and clean-living and his show at the Nugget is a real family pleaser.

Giggles-a-plenty fill the Circus Room during the riotously funny John Byner performance. Byner aims his satirical barrage at former television personalities and shows like the Lone Ranger and his sidekick Tonto, "down-to-earth" family shows like Ozzie and Harriet, and the Untouchables. Proving that a good laugh is the best medicine for all ills, Byner's remarkable impressions of Dean Martin, Johnny Mathis and other top entertainers surely attest to his originality and talent.

Completing the marquee are the Dorothy Dorben Singers and Dancers with new costumes and new routines, the Foster Edwards Orchestra, and the unbelievably talented Nugget elephants, Bertha and Tina.

Sorani Promoted

Richard E. Sorani, son of Mrs. Janet Franklin of Truckee, has been promoted to sergeant in the U. S. Air Force. He is an intelligence specialist at Mountain Home Air Force Base, Idaho.

Sorani is a 1964 graduate of Tahoe-Truckee High School.

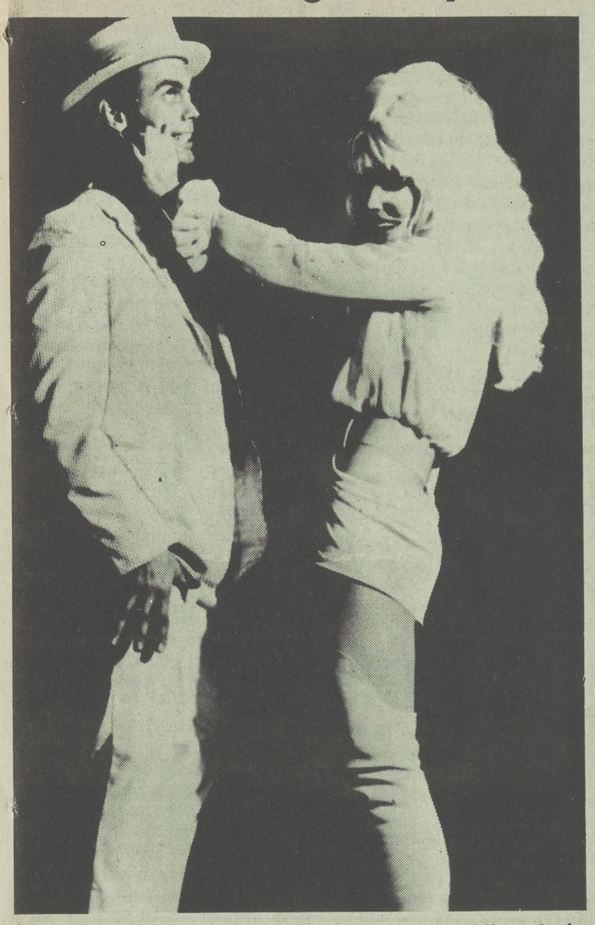
Beautiful Showgirls Keynote "Vive Les Girls" Revue



DAZZLING REVUE — "Vive Les Girls" enters its sixth week of its summer-long run at North Lake Tahoe's Nevada Lodge. An exciting extravaganza featuring some of the world's most beautiful showgirls and starring baritone Grant Griffin and songstress Line Turner, the show is staged nightly in Nevada Lodge's Topaz Room. Pictured above are the lead dancers: Joan Pelethorpe and Ron Watson.

"The most spectacular show ever to hit North Lake Tahoe . . ." that's how audiences and criticis react to the all new 1968 "Vive Les Girls" Revue now being staged nitely at Nevada Lodge.

Produced by Frederic Apcar, "Vive Les Girls" is an exciting adult portpourri of beautiful show girls, remarkable specialty acts, and all the verve and glamour of a Paris Follies.

As star of his 1968 production Apcar is spotlighting baritone Grant Griffin, a truly magnetic personality with a vibrant voice reminiscent of the late Mario Lanza.

Griffin has been a frequent guest on the Joey Bishop television show and has appeared in musical comedies across the nation with such stars as Shirley Jones, Jane Powell and Hans Conried.

Sharing star billing is beautiful songstress Line Turner who has won grant acclaim in the United States since coming here from her native Australia. Also featured are comic Beryl Williams, and magician Ken Alan.

But make no mistake about it: the real trademark of "Vive Les Girls" is girls, girls, girls, girls! Exciting Joan Pelethorpe is the lead dancer (with Ron Watson as her male counterpart).

Apcar has gathered together an elite group of the world's most beautiful showgirls and has braced them with imaginative and daring costuming to create a truly continental revue.

"Vive Les Girls" is staged nightly in Nevada Lodge's Topaz Room.

In addition to the extravaganza, Nevada Lodge also presents continuous dusk – 'til – dawn entertainment in the lounge. Now appearing is the dynamic and musical Paul Curtis Show.

Nevada Lodge is North Lake Tahoe's largest year-round resort hotel casino.

Fire Contract Is Approved

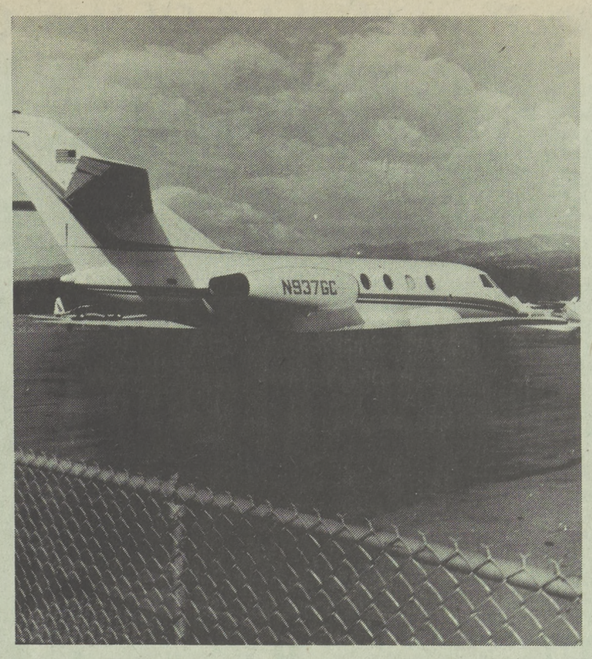
TAHOE CITY — Tahoe City Fire Protection District commissioners have approved a contract for administration, dispatching and training of volunteer firemen in El Dorado County Sevice Area No. 1 headquartered at Meeks Bay.

The area extends from the El Dorado County line at Tahoma to Bliss State Park. A tax rate of 12 cents per $100 assessed valuation finances the Meeks Bay service area which will pay the Tahoe City district $1,200 a year for services.



TRUCKEE VISITOR – French built Fan Jet Falcon dropped in for a few hours Sunday, departed as anonymously as it had arrived; other exotic aircraft visiting Truckee-Tahoe airport last week included a converted World War II B-26 – with "lots of chrome on it," according to Barbara Michael – and two Lear Jets. —Sun Photo.

Slo-Pitch League Results

Both games in the Slo-Pitch League were upsets, judging by previous records. Budweiser Swingers beat Smitty's Alpine Boys 12 to 5 on Tuesday. Smitty's team had previously been undefeated. Les Michael hit two home runs for the winner. On Thursday, Pastime's Firemen, who had not won a game, beat Fibreboard 13 to 4. The winning team was aided by the out-standing fielding of George Martello.

On Saturday, an all star team went to Reno to play in the Nevada Zone Tournament. The Truckee team, after a slow start, emerged victoriously 13 to 3. Truman Casey and Doug Kaylor hit home runs for Truckee. They played again on Sunday, but had less luck and lost 5 to 3. Two of Truckee's three points were from home runs by John Besio.

Early Deer Season Set

The Department of Fish and Game predicts deer hunting will be better than last year for the early deer season which opens Saturday, August 3.

The DFG reports a good carryover of bucks in many areas and average or better fawn production and survival in much of the coastal area. Deer also will be more concentrated than last year, when abundant browse and grass growth and good water conditions keep the deer scattered.

The DFG's Region 3, which covers the central coastal area and includes the top early season counties, predicts an improved buck kill in seven of the 13 counties. Similarly improved prospects are reported in several Southern California areas.

Hunters are reminded that fire danger will be critical in many areas, and extreme care should be taken. Several areas are closed because of fire danger, and special permits are required to enter some other areas.

Deer hunters must have a valid 1968 hunting license ($4) and deer tags ($2). Licenses and tags are available at DFG offices and most sporting goods stores.

For the second year, the experimental "self validation" system for deer tags will be in effect, allowing hunters to validate their own deer tags. Successful hunters are required to mail the "report card" portion of the tag to the DFG.

The DFG said one of the factors involved in last year's low reported deer kill was the failure of some hunters to forward the tags. In previous years, hunters were required to have their tags validated by specified officers, who forwarded the report portion to the DFG.

Hunters are urged to forward their tags this year to provide accurate figures on the buck kill. Response of the hunters will determine whether the "self validation" system is retained in the future.

Big Tiny Little A Lot Of Man

Big Tiny Little is a lot of man, and he gives out with a lot of music as his nimble fingers scamper over the keyboard nightly in the Stage Lounge of North Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club. Big Tiny Little, whose double reverse monicker gives a clue to the wide variety of music he plays, has a music-hungry audience shouting for "More!" at the end of every number.

Since leaving the Lawrence Welk Show, Tiny has shaken off his shackles and shoved an entirely different kind of music at appreciative audiences in top nightclubs all over the country. Big Tiny socks it to 'em with new folk-rock, rhythm and blues, contemporary jazz, and even slides into a couple of ricky-tick numbers to the delight of the Lawrence Welkites in the audience.

This ponderous man with the sensitive fingers and the baby face has a vast capacity for humor, in addition to his tremendous musical talent. Tiny uses his ample stomach as a integral part of his comedy, bumping each of his musicians with amazing accuracy and agility, to the accompaniment of gales of laughter from the foot-stomping audience. Although, the Big Tiny Little Show is a smash hit, keeping the Crystal Bay Club's Stage Lounge in a continuous tumult of either laughter or hand-clapping to groovy music.

Golden voiced Frankie Fanelli and his gang continue to alternate on the State Lounge's entertainment bill, and Charles Gould and his Satin Strings provide music for dining in the Crystal Steak House and the Crystal Dining Room.

Entertainment is featured nightly from 9 p.m., in the Stage Lounge of North Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club.

BIG TINY LITTLE — Leaped to overnight fame via the Lawrence Welk Show; he has forsaken the champagne bubbles for folk rock, rhythm and blues, contemporary jazz, ballads, and the kind of comedy that rolls 'em in the aisles, as he and his group keep audiences jumping in the Stage Lounge of North Lake Tahoe's Crystal Bay Club. Alternating to provide the entertainment are Frankie Fanelli and his gang.

Last Chance To Apply For CHP Position

Only 3 days are left to apply to take the test for a position as a California Highway Patrol Traffic Officer, according to California Highway Patrol Lt. Ledford of Truckee.

Friday, August 2 is the last day applications will be accepted for the August 24 written test. Application blanks are available at any Highway Patrol, State Employment Service, Department of Motor Vehicles or State Personnel Board office, according to the Captain.

Applicants must be between 21 and 31 years old, between five feet nine and six feet six in height, in good health and have a high school diploma or the equivalent.

State Park Director Mott Recommends Northern Sierra

"Avoid park and campground congestion this summer and come to the northern Sierra Nevada," said California Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott, Jr. in a recent statement distributed throughout California.

In making the recommendation, Mott pointed out that the ten state park units from Lake Tahoe to Plumas County have unfilled space and unused facilities and that they offer a wide range of activities, including fishing and hiking for the day-user or overnight camper.

Mott said that D. L. Bliss State Park, for example, had an average of 30 per cent of its 168 campsites reserved in July and has 39 per cent reserved for August. The other nine parks, except for Squaw Valley which does not offer camping, have a smaller percentage of their campsites reserved. Unreserved campsites are available on a first come, first served basis. The number of reservations drops off sharply after Labor Day.

Mott listed the ten facilities as Frenchman Reservoir, Antelope Reservoir, and Davis Lake, all in Plumas County and operated by the U.S. Forest Service; Plumas-Eureka State Park in Plumas County; Donner Memorial State Park in Nevada County; Squaw Valley; Tahoe State Recreation Area; Sugar Pine Point, D. L. Bliss, and Emerald Bay State Park, all in El Dorado County.

Chamber Music To Fishing: William Whitson's Interests

Appearing in each concert of the five program series, August 24 through August 28, at Incline Village will be San Francisco-bay area conductor and violinist William Whitson. An ardent trout fisherman, he will be using any available free time – whatever is left after morning rehearsals and evening performances – to fish the many inviting streams of the north Tahoe high country.

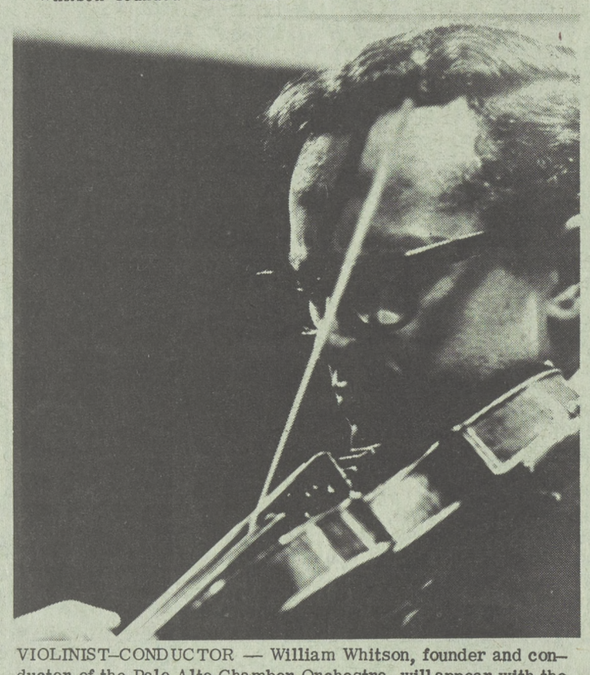
Whitson founded and conducts the fine young musicians of the Palo Alto Chamber Orchestra. An enthusiastic chamber music performer since his own student days, he handpicked 18 promising teenage musicians, "who intensely love music, your instrument, and the magnificent efforts of great genius of the past."

To offset the rigorous schedule his high standards demand, Whitson gives orchestra members full freedom to make decisions about selections they want to play, invitations to perform, practice times and recreation. The musicians enjoy year-round recreational activities: beach parties, barbecues and spaghetti feeds, basketball and football games. Still, music itself is a major source of pleasure.

Whitson could read music before he learned to master written words. He says: "Success in creating music means a sense of completion within each individual. Here lies the joy and beauty of it all! Music, of all the things in life, is perhaps the most direct emotional link with great creative thought. The greatest honor is to be able to reach over the years and emotionally communicate with the thoughts of a Beethoven or a Bach."

William Whitson; the Palo Alto Chamber Orchestra; pianists William Armstrong and Robert Bowman; flutist Camille Churchfield; the Whitson and Bell' Arte Trios; and the internationally renowned concert Village August Festival.

The concert series is a presentation of the Incline Village Fine Arts Guild. Performances will be held in the new Incline High School at 8 p.m., August 24, 25, 26, 27, 28.



VIOLINIST-CONDUCTOR — William Whitson, founder and conductor of the Palo Alto Chamber Orchestra, will appear with the group during the August Festival at Incline Village, from August 24 through 28.

Curfew Applies In Parks

State Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott Jr. today reminded parents of teenaged children that many State Parks lie within cities or counties with night curfew ordinances that require adult supervision of minors. The State Park System also follows a uniform procedure in restricting unchaperoned juveniles under 18 years of age who visit the parks at night.

In some parks, particularly beach parks near Southern California cities, there have been many disturbances – excessive vandalism, thefts, and fights – leading to unpleasant experiences for other park visitors. Sometimes these disturbances have carried over into nearby communities. State Park rangers enforce all county and city curfew ordinances where and when they apply. When in doubt, juveniles who intend to camp at state parks should contact these units while planning their trip.

The juvenile who wants to camp without parental supervision at a state park where curfew laws do not apply is required to leave his parent's or guardian's name, address and telephone number at the park office so that park officials can contact his or her parents in case of illness or for other reasons.

Donner Doings

By Vi White

Looks like we'll soon be having a voice on the air again. The Truckee radio station, KHOE, has been sold and is about to start operation. New call letters, KTRT. Have missed getting first-hand reports hour by hour and hope that the choice of musical entertainment includes some good music once in awhile.

* * *

We learned that Pete Tallant, who was state park ranger here at Donner Memorial Park for so many years, has transferred to Indian Grinding Rock State Historical Monument near Pine Grove in Amador County. Hope he enjoys his new position.

* * *

Snow patches are dwindling down to just a few, so very little water is coming into the lake and it's receeding now; best be on the lookout for rocks along the shoreline.

* * *

Willie and Doris Curran can hardly wait to build a pier out from Gil's lakefront home they just purchased. They too have been frequenting their old haunt, Donner Lake Lodge.

* * *

Elderberry shrubs are in full bloom with their creamy heads of flowers. Guess there will be another good crop of berries for jelly, but my husband Carson says he'd like to taste elderberry wine. Does anyone have the recipe?

* * *

Donner Lake received national recognition in Life magazine last week with the excellent photo of Goodie and Art Mori taken on their deck. Art expressed his views on the presidential election along with several people interviewed throughout the country by the Gallup Poll.

* * *

Our Indian water tub that's gradually taking shape after patiently gluing piece by piece in place, has been identified now as being a Chinese burial urn. It's getting more intriguing all the time — just hope we can find the rest of it.

* * *

The letter published a couple of weeks ago entitled "History in a Nutshell" by Dr. Rhoads, was accompanied by a model of the cabin Mose Schullenberger stayed in while he waited out the winter of 1844 at Donner Lake.

Dr. Rhoads, a retired dentist, made use of his tools and carved out the replica from an ivory piano key and inserted it into a walnut shell with a hinged opening for viewing. An intricate piece of work indeed, and this year for Old Timers Night he made a larger model of wood.

How wonderful to have someone so interested in our historical past.

* * *

My apologies to Gladys Jamieson for giving her the name of Florence and to George Morey for giving him the name of Art in the last column. Not the typesetter's error this time.

* * *

Only five months 'til Christmas . . . can you imagine? Gals, be sure and attend the coming flower show and bazaar Aug. 10 at the old bug station. You'll find interesting things to buy and some to make, plus the arrangements this year promise to surpass the last two flower shows. Please enter, too.

* * *

It was surprising to note how many local families have been using Donner Beach this summer. Among the season pass holders are: Hendrickson, Cardwell, Westbrook, Wyman, Anderson, Brassent, Gletne, Kerler, Sayler, Hickey, Smith, Monetta, Schwarz, Duerr, Tuemmler, Russell, Zirbel, Maldonado, Ellis, Boark, Gardai, Jones, Tonini, Sutton, Doyle, Jones, Houlgate, Vail, DeRyk, Batt, Painter, Harris, and Guido. The kiddies of course are the ones who live it up at the west end; swimming, paddle bikes, canoes, playground equipment and all sorts of things to keep them busy outdoors.

* * *

Several members of the Reno summer opera group have frequented Donner Beach recently during their performances of "Barber of Seville" and "Rigoletto," waterskiing and swimming and barbecuing in the fine picnic spot.

* * *

Well, Charlie did arrive home in time for dinner Friday night, and ever since then things have been hopping. He let not one minute go by and was over at Chambers Lodge competing in the waterski meet there with other Donner Lake Waterski Club members. Jinny Strobel won the girls slalom, Brad Jamieson won the junior boys' slalom and Lynn Giovannoni was third in the women's slalom there.

The Donner Lake club will be hosting a waterski slalom-only event Saturday, Aug. 17. Competition will get underway about 7:30 a.m. and will include the following classes: junior boys, junior girls, boys, girls, women's, men's, advanced men's, senior women's, senior men's.

MUSIC BY GEORGE — George Liberace that is, proves to be one of the big attractions at the North Shore Club Hotel, Crystal Bay, on the shores of Lake Tahoe. Among the numerous celebrated personalities of Show Business, who have called upon George were Mr. Show Business himself, Lee Liberace, and the winsome Miss Dorothy Collins. George and his delightful band will entertain at the North Shore Club until Sept. 2.

Dog Grooming For Incline

Billy and Clyde Deatherage have opened the Incline Dog Grooming Parlor at number one, Maynard Plaza in Incline Village, and are offering not only complete grooming for all breeds of dogs, but also canine baby sitting during the day.

Approximately ten years ago after her boys were raised, Billy decided she needed something to keep her busy, and so she opened the Granada Poodle Parlor at Whiteoak and Chatsworth in Granada Hills, California. Affiliated with Dr. Schram, a veterinarian, her establishment became the largest business of its kind in the Los Angeles area. She employed five full-time groomers and 40 to 50 dogs were bathed and groomed each day.

When husband, Clyde retired from the Los Angeles Police Department last month, the Deatherages headed for the high country and left their business firmly in the hands of their sons, Tom and Bob.

North Tahoe dog owners will now be able to have their dogs groomed without a long trip, and the prices are surprisingly low. The average charge for grooming a miniature poodle (including bath, clip, toenail trim, and removal of hair from ears) is $6.

Grooming is by appointment only and those interested are invited to inspect the premises. The number to call is 831-1644.

Sky Harbor, located at Phoenix, Arizona, is reported by National Automobile Club to be among the nation's 15 busiest commercial airfields.

North Lake Chamber Gains Funds From Placer County

In action before the Placer County Board of Supervisors, Tuesday, July 23, the Greater North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce was awarded $20,000 for promotional funds and the Placer County Chamber of Commerce received $62,000.

Supervisor Robert Radovich moved and Will Jones seconded that an additional one per cent room tax be charged commencing the last quarter of 1968, which would bring the total room tax for the County to the commonplace five per cent. Final vote was three to two in favor (Briner and Paoli against). County counsel was instructed to prepare the ordinance.

Supervisor Radovich stressed that the promotional fund limitation for the county was antiquated and was geared for 1918 thinking. Paoli recommended that a committee should be formed to look into state legislation to update the outmoded law.

The supervisors, under urging from local Supervisor Bill Briner, pushed for the return of all the revenue from the increased one per cent room tax monies. Briner stressed that the entire additional one per cent fund be used for recreational development at North Lake Tahoe and that it be distributed between the North Lake Tahoe Public Utility District and the Tahoe City Public Utility District. It was pointed out by chairman Mahan that the entire county would benefit from the added revenue.

The presentation of the North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce, by president Dave Stollery, was on the basis that the distribution of promotional funds be in direct relation to the growth of assessed valuation in the two areas; that is, the Tahoe-Truckee School District as compared to the balance of the rest of the county.

The chamber urged the Supervisors to spend the taxpayers money where it was making money, to promote what was working for them, and to promote those areas that are showing the greatest return to the taxpayers of Placer County.

The following persons represented the chamber at the Tuesday hearing: Ben Ferrari; Bill Summerlin and Lefty Lenne from Kings Beach; Ralph Rauscher and Doris Estabrook from Homewood; Dave and Mitzie Stollery, Tim Sullivan, and Betty Layton from Tahoe City; and Bill Parson from Squaw Valley.

Summer Session

The fifth annual Sierra College Summer Session at North Tahoe completed its six week program last Friday, having offered courses in art, real estate and social science to more than 80 students, 18 years of age and over.

Most colorful of the courses offered were the art classes taught by Mrs. Vesta Chastain, art consultant to the Auburn Elementary Schools.

Thirty nine students, many of whom are Junior College members working toward their teaching credentials, worked with twisted paper, string, water colors, oils, papier mache, paper and wire (for mobiles) and all types of dried food for seed pictures.

Big Methodist Rummage Sale For Truckee

The United Methodist Church of Truckee will hold their annual rummage sale on August 8 and 9 in downtown Truckee. The sale will be conducted in the vacant building on Main Street near the Bank of America.

Women of the church have been busy at work preparing a large selection of household goods, clothing, appliances, pictures, camping equipment, art objects, and many other useful items for sale to the public. The sale begins at 9 a.m. daily.

Donations may be made by calling Kay Hubbard at 587-3298 or Johnnie Smith at 587-4101.

Linda Stout Married To Robert Hobbs Recently In Tahoe City Ceremony

Christ the King Lutheran Church in Tahoe City was the setting for the wedding of Linda Lee Stout and Robert James Hobbs, both of Truckee, Saturday, July 20 and 2 p.m. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. William Dowling.

Liane Myers, girlhood friend of the bride was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Marilyn Mize of Concord, Gail Harrington of Los Angeles, and Laura Pribuss of San Mateo, all close friends of the bride.

They were all dressed alike in rose pink floor length crepe gowns, with satin accents, and matching veils. The bridesmaids carried informal bouquets.

The bride's gown was of ivory peau-de-soie, with lace and bead applique on the dress and train. The dress was matched with a camelot bead cap that accented the chapel length ivory veil. Her bouquet was of white phalanopsis orchids, baby breath, and stephanosis.

The ringbearer was Vance Mahon and the flower girl, who was dressed in a floor length pink gown, was the ringbearer's sister Diane Mahon. She carried a nosegay of pink flowers.

Lee Czuba, a close friend of the groom was the best man. Showing guests to their seats were Bill Hobbs, brother of the groom, David Davenport, a cousin of the bride and Gary Waters, a close friend of the couple.

A reception followed at the Chataux, in Incline Village, with Robin Waters attending the guest book.

The new Mrs. Hobbs was attending the University of Santa Clara, and is a post worthy advisor of Hope Assembly No. 18, Order of Rainbow for Girls and a past grand officer of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls in Nevada.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Stout of Truckee.

The bridegroom was attending Fresno State college and just recently returned from Vietnam were he served as a petty officer in the Seabee's.

He is the grandson of Mrs. Vera Fink, and the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fink and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herdal all of Auburn.

The going away costume of the bride was navy blue dress with white accessories, and an orchid corsage. The couple kept their honeymoon destination a secret. They will reside in Reno, Nevada.

Vacation Church School Set For Kings Beach Area

Squaws Meet, Greet, And Plan Thieves Market

A get-acquainted coffee meeting was held for new members and prospective new members of the Tahoe Squaws recently at the home of Mrs. Joe Joynt, membership chairman.

A short history of the organization was presented by Ruth Lee Pilley. She also summarized the yearly projects and explained that the purpose of the Squaws is "the cultural and educational benefit of the community."

The Squaws have sponsored the Junior Ballet from Los Angeles, a local Little Theater group, story hour at the Placer County Library and Tahoe City Library, the presentation of two $500 scholarships annually to graduating seniors at Tahoe-Truckee High School, and in the past two years have given $4,500 to the three elementary school libraries in the area.

The Squaws are currently planning for "the largest rummage sale on the lake" with their Thieves Market, August 23 and 24 at Tahoe Lake School, Tahoe City.

Ladies present at the meeting were Jean Van Wetter, president of the club, and Barbara Reily, Delores Sheean, Flo Wellings, Joyce Wellings, Jean Pope, Linda Moore, Elaine Kahn, Vonnie Keeting, Ruth Lee Pilley, Scottie Sherman, Eddy Ancinas, Carol Felish, Jean Joynt.

Blyth Arena in Squaw Valley will be the scene of the 1969 Central Pacific Figure Skating Championships according to an announcement made here last weekend by Joyce Weeks, president of the Squaw Valley Figure Skating Club. The championship meet is scheduled to be held on November 14 and 15 with the possibility of a third day to be scheduled. Joyce will be chairman of the competition with Mrs. Barbara Ging Skerry of Squaw Valley acting as co-chairman. Mrs. Skerry is a former Pacific Coast senior ladies' figure skating champion.

The sanction for the championships was announced to the local group by Ray Alperth who is competition chairman for the Pacific Coast region of the United States Figure Skating Association. He was in attendance last weekend at the authorized tests for figure skating given at Blyth Arena. Other officials and judges who were in attendance at the testing were Mrs. Patricia Staunton of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Janes of Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers of Burlingame, Mrs. Joan Burns of Millbrae and Mrs. Margery Schleh of Sacramento.

Olympic medalist Jimmy Grogan was one of the skaters participating in the tests. Miss Judy McCloud of Vancouver, B.C., successfully completed the "Eighth Test" and was officially sanctioned to compete in national and international figure skating competitions.

Charges Filed In Incline Auto Accident

INCLINE VILLAGE — A charge of involuntary manslaughter was filed Tuesday against Chapman Wentworth, Incline Village, stemming from a two-car accident "on or about July 15" at Incline Village in which two persons were killed, according to David G. Parraguirre, first assistant Washoe County district attorney.

The charge states that Wentworth drove in other than a careful manner, failing to halt at a stop sign, resulting in a collision, Parraguirre said.

Killed were Russell K. Crews and his wife, Gloria, both 41.

Wentworth and his wife, Janet, sustained multiple injuries and were treated at Washoe Medical Center, Reno, and have since been released.

Justice of the Peace William Beemer said a warrant for Wentworth's arrest has been issued and bail set at $1,500.

Local Students Make Honor List

One hundred twenty-three students representing 34 of California's 58 counties achieved the Dean's List for the College Of Engineering at University of California, Davis, during the spring quarter.

Students on the Dean's List attained a 3.0 (B) average for all work done at the University out of a possible 4.0 (A) average.

Included on the roster were Michael E. Sauby of Truckee and Darryl J. Cernuska of Kings Beach.

California Fund Shows Fiscal Increase

SACRAMENTO — California General Fund receipts in the 1967-68 fiscal year totaled $3,600,329,603 compared to $2,549,425,494 in the 1966-67 fiscal year, an increase of $1,050,904,109 or 41.21 per cent, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy has reported.

Compared with the same period last year, the following percentage increases were primarily due to legislation passed in the 1967 session: retail sales and use tax, 31 per cent; bank and corporation franchise and income taxes, 28 per cent; personal income tax, 91 per cent; cigarette tax, 104 per cent; liquor taxes, 28 per cent; and inheritance tax, 24 per cent.

Flournoy said, "This report is on a cash basis and should not be understood to portray a complete picture of the state's financial position. The cash balance should not be confused with the unappropriated surplus of the General Fund, which presents a truer picture of the state's financial position. The determination of the amount of unappropriated surplus will be completed about mid-August when we will issue financial statements on an accrual basis for the General Fund and all other government cost funds.

"The August report will reflect the following factors that are not included in this preliminary report: income received but not cleared into the state Treasury by June 30, accrual of revenues, obligations incurred but unpaid on that date, and intertund settlements due but not completed on that date," Flournoy said.

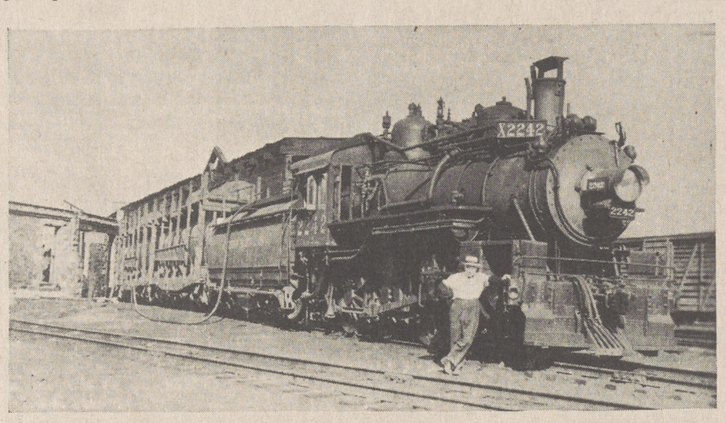
General Fund governmental cost disbursements for the 1967-68 fiscal year totaled $3,318,645,787 compared to $2,895,976,331 for the 1966-67 fiscal year, an increase of $422,669,456 or 14.60 per cent. Receipts exceeded disbursements in the 1967-68 fiscal year by $281,683,816.

Major General Fund revenue sources during fiscal year 1967-68 produced the following receipts:

Sales tax, $1,386,309,709; personal income taxes, $951,637,071; bank and corporation franchise and income taxes, $578,813,504; insurance companies tax, $116,079,356; inheritance tax, $132,451,771; liquor taxes, $93,369,160; and cigarette tax, $154,036,770.

Education at all levels including the University of California, was the largest expenditure category: $1,909,536,952 or 57.5 per cent of General Fund.

CITIZEN MARINES — These two Incline Village residents who are also Marine reservists make the final check on a helicopter on the last day of summer training July 20. Completing two weeks of annual training duty at Camp Pendleton with Marien Medium Helicopter Squadron 764 is Staff Sergeant David P. Bilger, left, 33, and Corporal Paul M. Feiten, 32. Both Marines travel over 1200 miles one weekend a month to meet with the squadron at Naval Air Station, Los Alamitos. Bilger, who has brought over 45 people into the reserve program in the past ten years, is a barber in Lake Tahoe. Feiten, a 13 year veteran with the Marine Reserves, is employed by the Incline Village Improvement District. (Official USMC Photo).



TRUCKEE FIRE TRAIN — cleaning out an old filing cabinet in the Sun office last week turned up an ancient engraving; printer Al Perino put it on his Original Heidelberg and came up with this print; writing on engraving block says it is Engine 2242, the Truckee Fire Train, with roundhouse foreman B. J. (Bat) Riordan holding it steady; Walt estimates photo was taken 30 or 35 years ago.

North Lake Tahoe Chamber Pot-Shots

By Betty Layton

The North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce's victory before the board of Supervisors last Tuesday is a result of years of struggle to get our fair share of promotional dollars returned to the North portion of the county.

Our request for $28,000 was pared down to $20,000 which will require a meeting of the budget committee within the next week. The granting of $20,000 to be used for promotion is not to be confused with the increase of the room tax from the present 4 per cent to 5 per cent. It has nothing to do with it.

By State law, the maximum amount that a general law county can spend on promotion is four cents for every $100 of assessed valuation in the county. For Placer County this sets a ceiling of $84,000. The Placer County Chamber of Commerce is the promotional body for the board of supervisors and the county. Our request was to recognize us as a separate promotional chamber with a specialized field unlike other parts of the county.

The room tax at 4 per cent brings in $135,000 annually to the county's general fund. This will increase to approximately $170,000 at 5 per cent. Even should the Tahoe City Motel Association with the law suit with the county concerning where the room tax funs should be spent, under the present state law, the money could not be spent on promotion.

The stipulation in the additional 1 per cent room tax funds is for it to be used for recreational land acquisition and maintenance in the north Lake Tahoe-Placer County area. These funds will be distributed from the recreational districts of the Tahoe City Public Utility District and the North Tahoe Public Utility District. Whatever revenue the increase in tax will produce, that amount will in no way effect the dollars we can get from the board of supervisors for promotion. Chamber member ships are still needed for office maintenance and expense and for the many other activities of the chamber.

A meeting of the Ski Tahoe North Committee was held Monday at which time a summary of last year's successful reservation program was made. A total of 3,827 people were placed in 1,364 motel rooms for 2,889 nights. It was decided by the committee that they would continue the service this year and take out a booth at the San Francisco, Los Angeles and Seattle ski shows which will all take place in October, 1968. It was further concluded that a special ski reduction plan would be available for the chamber member motels to offer their guests. A meeting which will be open to all motel owners will be held soon to discuss the program which will benefit the entire area.

TEVIS CUP RACE

A unique horseback ride is taking place next weekend after next from Tahoe City. This is hte 14th year for this one-day trek across the Western States Riding & Hiking Trail which cuts through Placer County to Auburn. It is not only a test of horsemanship but an endurance and fitness contest for the horses.

The event always attracts riders and horses from afar. To highlight a few of this year's riders, there is an Austrialian livestock journal writer who will be entered with his Hungarian horse. He usually participates in the Gold Cup 100-Mile Ride in Austrialia — (the Tevis Cup is silver).

Dwight Pollack last year didn't complete the ride but this year he'll be back riding an Arabian horse that he picked up in Warsaw, Poland. It is rumored that one of the wealthiest women in the United States, from Chicago, will be entered and a very famous heart specialist will be at the race; but he won't be riding, he'll be driving the supply truck for his wife who'll be entered. It is said that she has an airconditioned trailer for her horses.

There is a Countess from Hungary, Margit Bessenyey, who will be riding, and three or four of her Hungarian horses will be travelling the trail, August 10.

It was noted last year that officially there were 109 entries; however, unofficially there were two incognitos along that were born shortly after the ride. Of the 109 entries, 54 finished. This year there are 140 entries but the veterinarian check which will be held Friday at Fletcher Park in Tahoe City will whittle the number down.

Dr. Nomura, a veterinarian from Japan, will be on the ride performing vet duties. He is in this country teaching special courses at Case University and is a noted authority on high-altitude training and equipment for the Japanese Olympic team.

Our local representatives, Jay Shontz and Dave Edwards, will be in charge of the usual arrangements to make the horses and horsemen comfortable at the Tahoe City Golf Course, which Carl Bechdolt offers for their use the night before the ride. Local entries are Jay Shontz and Mrs. Pat Fox.

Design Sewage Export System For Incline

Clair A. Hill and Associates, engineers, have been retained by Incline Village General Improvement District to establish cost estimates and draw preliminary plans for the export of treated sewage. A contract was signed Friday which provides for preliminary engineering in the amount of $15,000.

Export of all treated sewage from the Tahoe basin must be accomplished by 1970. Incline Village is the last community in the basin to provide for exporting effluent.

The Improvement District estimates system costs at $2.5 million, but actual cost figures and plans will not be ready until the end of September.

Highway Patrol Test Set

SACRAMENTO – Only a few days are left to apply to take the test for a position as a California Highway Patrol Traffic Officer, according to California Highway Patrol Capt. W. T. Kramer of Placerville Area.

Aug. 2 is the last day applications will be accepted for the Aug. 24 written test. Application blanks are available at any Highway Patrol, State Employment Service, Department of Motor Vehicles or State Personnel Board office, according to the captain.

Applicants must be between 21 and 31 years old, between five feet nine and six feet six in height, in good health and have a high school diploma or the equivalent.

Today's Chuckle

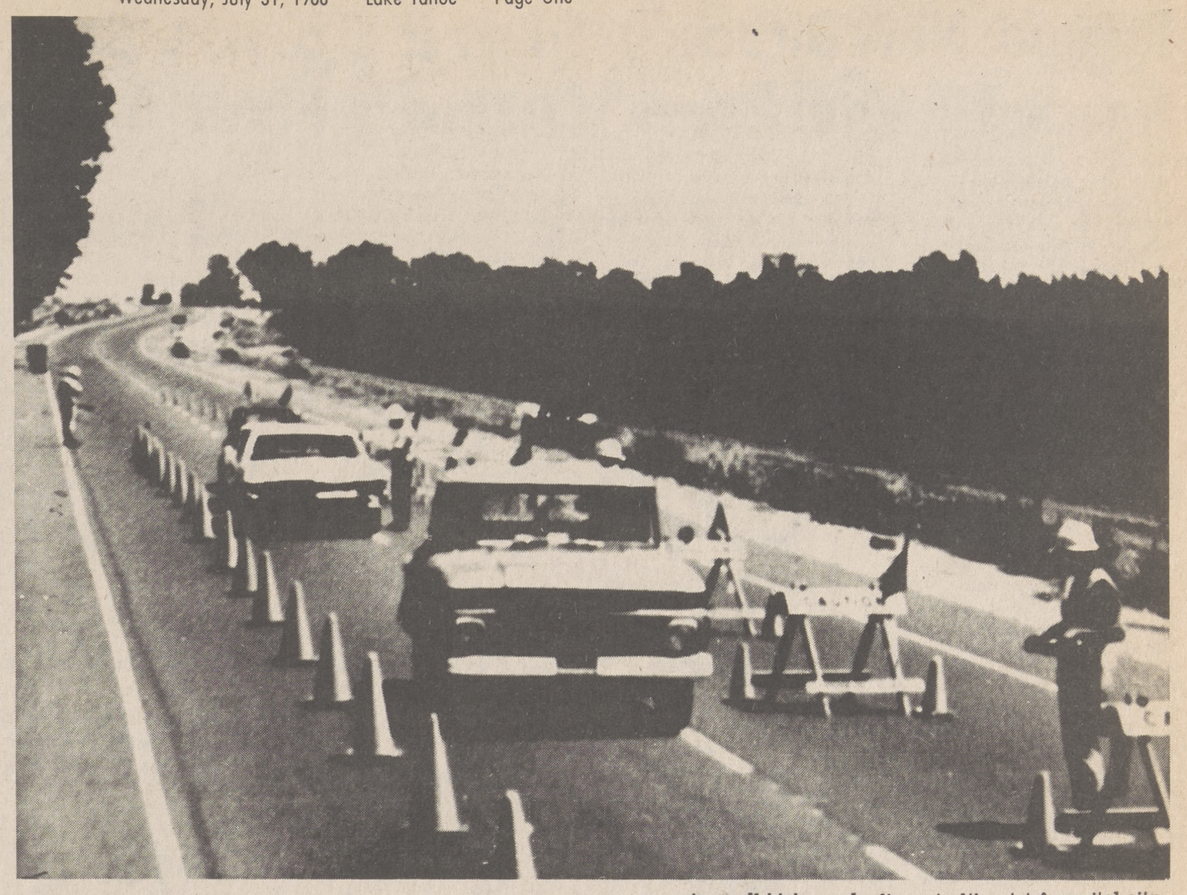
Marriage is just another union that defies management.



WHERE ARE YOU GOING? — Replies by thousands of motorists over the next two months will help shape the type and routes of highway and mass transit facilities around Sacramento for years to come. Interviewers are repeating the same question over and over again on all highways leading out of the state's capital city. Survey will continue until Oct. 1.

Highway Research Teams Quiz California Motorists

MARYSVILLE – Nearly 7,000 motorists have answered questions put to them by highway research teams who are conducting a three-month study in an area around Sacramento bounded by Galt, Placerville, Auburn and Woodland.

Squads of trained specialists are at work at all hours of the day and seven days a week asking motorists for such information as place of residence, origin and destination of trip.

When compiled this information will yield data which will help shape mass transit and highway routes of the future. Motorists who aid in this inventory are providing a valuable contribution to future development of the greater Sacramento area.

Officials in charge of the study say highway users have been most cooperative in the brief interviews which are apt to take place almost any time on roads leading out of the state's capital.

The Sacramento Regional Planning Commission, the city and county of Sacramento and the State Division of Highways have planned this major transportation study cooperatively to forecast future travel patterns, probable land uses, economic and population projections for 1980, 1990, and year 2000 and beyond.

Job Corps Centers Report Work Openings

Sacramento's Federal Job Information Center has announced an examination to fill a limited number of vacancies for corpsman work supervisors in various job corps conservation centers in Northern and Central California counties.

Initial salary for those employed will be $4,732 and $6,981 depending on qualifications of the applicant and positions available.

To qualify, applicants will need at least 3 years of experience which has provided a general background of knowledges and skills required in one or more of various types of conservation work. This involves work in preservation and improvement of natural resources, such as: range management, landscape planning, planting and tree thinning; construction and maintenance of canals, dams, etc.

For the higher level positions an additional year of supervision and on-the-job training of others in conservation work is required.

A bachelor's degree in engineering, agriculture, forestry, or related fields, or in vacational education may be substituted for the 3 years of conservation experience.

Graduate study in the same fields may be substituted for the supervisory experience at the rate of nine months of education for one year of experience.

Chamber Report Shows State Economy Strong

SACRAMENTO – Based on the latest California economic indicators released by California Chamber of Commerce, the state's economy continues to look strong. Civilian employment was up slightly for the month of June, housing construction remained about the same and new car registrations were up.

In June 7.7 million people were employed which is a 100 thousand increase over May and a 3.3 per cent increase over a year ago. At the same time unemployment was up 48 thousand in June, but was down 7.3 per cent over a year ago.

While there were 237 fewer dwellings constructed in May than in April (the latest period reported), construction was up 57.8 per cent over a year ago.

There were 2,366 more new cars registered in May than in April, and the 81,384 registered in May was a 16.5 per cent increase over a year ago.

Personal income for Californian's reached $73.4 million for the first quarter of 1968,

Mail Service Reductions Are Opposed

WASHINGTON — Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson has called on Congress to preserve the most basic of all federal services to the people of the nation, prompt and efficient mail service.

Attacking the proposed reductions in mail service, and especially the closing of fourth class post offices, the Second (mountain-valley counties) District representative declared:

"If the fourth class offices and the smaller third-class offices are discontinued, a great percentage of the more than 500,000 people living in the Second Congressional District will be deprived of adequate, prompt and efficient postal service."

"They will be continuing to pay for this service, but they will not be getting anything in return."

Congressman Johnson, in a speech made before the House of Representatives commended the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee which had recommended enactment of legislation to permit full staffing of the Post Office Department in order to continue to provide the service which the people of our nation have come to expect and rightfully deserve.

"The Post Office Department faces a major crisis," Johnson said, "a crisis which is the result, not of a dollar shortage."

Pointing out that this can be accomplished within the dollar limits imposed upon the department by Congress if authority were granted to exceed the manpower limits, Johnson declared:

"Elimination of this service upon which so many people are dependent would in truth not save one single 5-cent piece."

Calling on the Congress to be realistic, Johnson charged it is unwise to try to cut postal manpower levels to June, 1966, level in spite of the fact that the volume of mail carried has increased 11 per cent during those two years. He pointed out that the volume this year will top 84 billion pieces.

"We have got to provide the manpower to do the job," Johnson said.

Board Hikes Hotel Tax

AUBURN – Placer County's hotel-motel tax has been increased from 4 to 5 per cent by the board of supervisors.

The increase is expected to raise more than $20,000 a year. The supervisors indicated they will place the money in a special fund for the county's two public utility districts to be used for recreational development.

The supervisors also allocated $20,000 to the Greater North Tahoe Chamber of Commerce and set the county chamber's budget at $62,000.

Raggio: New Direction Needed In Vital Issues

FALLON — Washoe County Dist. Atty. William Raggio told members of the Rotary Club in Fallon that new direction and new ideas are necessary to cope with the vital issues of Vietnam, the economic crisis and the problem of lawlessness.

"Strength and determination marked the birth of this nation and its growth as a major power through almost two centuries. But in our dealings with the Communist world in Southeast Asia we have talked strength, then shown weakness; we have indicated determination, and then shown a lack of willingness to stand up to an issue," he said.

"We have semi-shackled our military forces with a policy of 'flexible response,' limiting them to re-acting instead of acting. This policy has committed us to fighting on Vietcong terms in what has become our longest war. It has been a 'no-win' policy with no end in sight," Raggio added.

"We must reassess our military objective in South Vietnam as well as our policies and commitments throughout the world. When American military forces are utilized, they should be allowed to succeed in their military purpose. Other nations of the Free World should be required to bear their share of the burden and responsibility in South Vietnam, or we should discontinue economic and military assistance and other aid to them," he said.

"New direction is needed to cope with the crisis of fiscal mismanagement. The federal government now spends $50-million a day more than it receives. Housewives and businessmen must balance their budgets, and this is just as necessary for government. Near run-away inflation and a tax surcharge are the heavy prices we pay for fiscal irresponsibility," he said.

"To cope with lawlessness, respect for authority must be restored and the attitude of permissiveness must be curtailed. An attitude of respect for law and order must be created at the top national level if it is to command respect at the local level," he concluded.

Decision On Railroads Proper: Bible

WASHINGTON — Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nevada, described as "absolutely proper and entirely fair" a decision requiring Southern Pacific and Western Pacific to continue operating passenger trains across northern Nevada.

"This is great news for a number of Nevada communities," Bible said after the Interstate Commerce Commission issued a continuance order. "It means daily round-trip passenger service between northern Utah and northern California points will continue for at least the next year."

The ICC ordered the Southern Pacific's City of San Francisco and the Western Pacific's California Zephyr to continue passenger operations "as required by the public convenience" for the next 12 months.

Under present law, no continuance order may extend beyond a one-year period.

Both railroads had sought to terminate service immediately, citing loss of revenue as the principal reason.

Bible, who vigorously opposed the railroad applications at public hearings in Reno, Winnemucca and Elko, said loss of the trains now would have had "serious impact" on 11 northern Nevada cities.

"It would have inconvenienced hundreds of travelers while creating severe problems for Nevada employes of the two railroads," he declared. "And it would have ruptured an important link in the transcontinental rail network presently joining the nation from seaboard to seaboard."

Both railroads earlier this year sought to terminate Nevada service without public hearings. Bible, however, argued before ICC chairman Paul Tierney that "both sides of the argument must be heard." Hearings subsequently were ordered.

The City of San Francisco operates between Ogden, Utah, and Oakland, California, with intermediate stops in Nevada at Wells, Elko, Carlin, Battle Mountain, Winnemucca, Imlay, Lovelock, Hazen, Sparks and Reno.

The California Zephyr, between Salt Lake City and Oakland, serves Elko, Winnemucca, Gerlach and Reno.

Bible supports legislation to maintain all passenger rail service at its present level pending a detailed study of ground transportation nationwide. Nevada's senior senator has contended the study would demonstrate the importance of passenger trains to future travel needs.

State Bonds Sell Well During First 6 Months

El Dorado County Savings Bonds Chairman C. Gordon Wright today reported the first six months of 1968 marked the most successful sales period in the peacetime history of the program in California.

Total cash sales of E & H Savings Bonds combined with Freedom Shares amounted to $205,984,384 in California — up $18 million or 9.8 per cent over the same period last year.

El Dorado County contributed $437,690 in sales to the statewide total during the January-June period. June sales for the county were $280,755.

The Savings Bonds volunteer commented on the spectacular sales record:

"The recent improvement in interest rates to 4-1/4 per cent on Series E & H Savings Bonds and 5 per cent on Freedom Shares, is having an important impact on sales.

Legislation Introduced To Restrict Log Export Harvest

WASHINGTON – Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson today introduced legislation calling for the restriction of exports of logs harvested from National Forests and other public lands in northern California and other western areas not included in a recent order issued by the Department of Agriculture.

Congressman Johnson was joined by Congressman Don Clausen, also of northern California, in taking the legislative step.

The action followed the successful move by Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon to amend the Foreign Aid Bill now pending before the Senate to impose these restrictions.

"By introducing the legislation in the House of Representatives," Johnson said, "we point out the support of western congressional representatives for these restrictions."

Webb Corporation Earnings —Up 10 Cents Per Share

PHOENIX — Del E. Webb Corp. has reported to stockholders net earnings for the first six months of 1968 of $665,112, equal to 10 cents per share.

This compared to earnings of four cents per share for the same period in 1966 and 1967. Net for the first six months of 1967 was $257,986.

During the first quarter this year the Webb corporation reported four cents per share earnings.

Gross revenue the first six months of 1968 amounted to $80,856,829, against $68,393,248 for the same period in 1967.

In a joint six-month report to stockholders, Chairman Del Webb and President Robert H. Johnson emphasized management is "well pleased" with company progress, and cited successful bids for $70 million in new construction, including $47 million obtained in the second quarter.

They reported the company's Nevada hotel properties are enjoying outstanding summer patronage, and that sales in residential and industrial land development at Oak Brook near Chicago and at Sun City retirement projects are on the upgrade.

Expo Racing Tickets On Sale Monday

SACRAMENTO — Tickets for the first race meeting at the new California Exposition will go on sale at Cal Expo on Mondays and Tuesdays beginning Monday, it was announced by Harrison Cutler, managing director of State Fair activities.

Mondays and Tuesdays are "dark" days at Cal Expo until Aug. 26, which eliminates any parking fee to the Exposition grounds.

The race meet runs from Aug. 26 through Sept. 10.

Prepaid tickets for both the Cal Expo grounds and grandstand will be available in the Administration Building only on Mondays and Tuesdays, according to Cutler.

Beginning Aug. 15, tickets will be available daily at a special "will call" window at Cal Expo's main gate. These seats may be reserved by telephoning Ken Fouche at 641-2313 and picked up at the "will call," also without a parking fee.

In addition to the $1.50 main gate admission, which allows racing fans an opportunity to see Cal Expo both before and after the races, the following prices will prevail for the race meet:

Boxes — $2, reserved seats $1. There is a $1 general admission price to enter the grandstand.

Box seats are still available on a seasonal basis.

A restaurant-cocktail lounge, the Gold Medallion Room, will be open daily to the public on the fourth (top) level, which affords easy viewing not only of the racing strip but Cal Expo in general.

The Exposition meet this year will be presented in a $5 million racing plant featuring a grandstand area capable of accommodating 25,000 persons due to its easy access and 100-foot front apron. There is seating for 6,200.

Boy Scout Forms Now Available

RENO — A total 39 Boy Scouts and Explorers from this area will attend the Seventh National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America next year, according to Lee Wade, chairman of the Jamboree Committee for the Nevada Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Requests for applications are now being accepted, Wade said, and may be made by troop and post leaders to the Scout service center in Reno.

The National Jamboree — limited to about 40,000 participants — will be held at Farragut State Park, Idaho, from July 16 to 22, 1969.

Wade said that all applicants will be interviewed by a local selection committee, and names of approved participants will be announced.

Boy Scouts who apply must have attained age 12 on or before Sept. 1, 1968, and have achieved Star rank by April 1, 1969, Wade said. Explorers must be registered as Scouts or Explorers on or before July 1, 1968, and must meet requirements of camping experience, leadership, and scouting spirit.

Just a little effort to do it right!

FULL–TIME JOB — Bank of America uses twelve of these Twin Bonanzas to deliver and pick up inter–office correspondence and cancelled checks for its far–flung branch system. The colorful planes — white with black and red trim — are met at each scheduled stop by auto messengers. These men gather and sort the bulging sacks and boxes and deliver their contents to branches in the area.

Tahoe Area Banks Join Flight Computer Service

Bank of America's Lake Tahoe Branch has joined the bank's statewide computer processing service with the inauguration of a daily flight schedule to bring bank mail in and out of Tahoe airport.

The bank's 12 Twin Bonanzas comprise one of the largest, most unusual inter–office messenger systems in the country, criss–crossing California every banking day on time, to meet the quick service needs of the bank's computer system.

O.E. Helgeson, manager of the Lake Tahoe Branch says that plane cargo includes everything from memos to EDP tapes to satisfy the demands of a computer schedule and to give good service to bank customers.

The banker said that the service is unique for the items carried by the bank air force are delivered on time. It is possible for instance, for a B of A executive in Lake Tahoe to tell his counterpart near the Mexican border – 600 miles away – that he will have the papers he requested on his desk by eight the following morning.

How the letter is delivered at a precise time hundreds of miles away in little over 15 hours, is the story of one of the most efficient delivery operations of banking–by–air.

The unusual flying assignments began as an experiment in 1960 when Bank of America was converting to a statewide computer system. The San Diego installation was a few months behind schedule, and to make up for the delay several hundred pounds of cancelled checks had to be flown daily to Los Angeles.

The challenge was laid before Gibbs Flying Service of San Diego and what started out to be 600 pounds of sacked cargo soon was 1,000 pounds daily. It went north of Los Angeles every night and was returned in the morning.

The operation was so successful that today more than 945 branches and the bank's administrative departments depend on this delivery system for more than 100,000 items a day.

"It's an effective method which has proven feasible, practical, and economical," according to A.R. Zipf, Executive Vice President of the Bank. "When you consider the large geographical distances that have to be covered in the state and the large volume of items that have to be brought to centralized computer centers for processing, our system is unique."

The bank has five runs in the north and five runs in the south with two overlapping runs between Burbank and Oakland. The new air route will service all branches in the Lake Tahoe area out of Tahoe Airport, cover Feather River, Loyalton and the Quincy branches out of the Beckwourth airport, and service Susanville, Sierra Army Depot, Westwood and Chester Branches out of the Susanville Airport. One additional stop will include the Alturas Airport to service the Alturas and Cedarville branch. Basically, it is a morning delivery and evening pickup.

Outbound, at scheduled stops, messengers are waiting for the mail–type sacks for delivery to the branches. Some 300 ground messengers are involved in this operation; they meet at airports and other rendevous points twice a day to pick up and deliver branch correspondence. At night the planes return on the same routes.

On the average the planes log a total of 4,000 miles daily to carry and deliver about 5 tons of assorted documents and letters.

Not that the bank doesn't encounter occasional difficulties. Maintaining a necessary regular schedule is demanding on pilots and equipment under the best conditions and two of the bank routes that are notorious for frequent bad weather are the Oakland – Ukiah run and the Owens Valley area.

On the Oakland – Ukiah run, for instance, one of the Gibbs Pilots has flown on instruments as much as one third of the time during winter months. One way to fly in the Owens Valley according to another pilot is to fly with the left hand and hang on to the bottom of the seat with the right. Every once in a while there is the mission of mercy, such as the hurried flight to Bishop to deliver some surgical instruments needed for an emergency operation.

Weather cancellations have been surprisingly few. On the few days of bad weather each year, however, the bank has emergency procedures for alternate airports and for alerting its messenger system in the field. Pilots are asked to avoid taking any unnecessary chances, which accounts for a perfect flying record in six years of banking by air.

Not so smooth is the ground messenger service. Our auto courier between Fort Bragg and Ukiah was late three times because of collisions with deer. Another has been trapped in a storm between Arcata and Crescent City when fallen trees blocked the road. He was freed after nine hours by a logging crew.

California Congressman Named To Committees

WASHINGTON — Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson has been appointed by the Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives to serve on four major conference committees which will draft the final versions of a variety of bills primarily relating to water and other natural resources development.

In each instance the House of Representatives and the United States Senate have approved versions of the legislative proposals but these are not in agreement, and, therefore, in order to obtain final congressional approval, these differences must be resolved. Committees of representatives and senators are appointed to accomplish this.

The bills on which Congressman Johnson currently is working include the complex Colorado River legislation and the National Water Commission legislation. Both of these were bills which were considered and recommended in the House of Representatives by the Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation, of which Representative Johnson is chairman.

Other measures are the Redwoods National Park and the Omnibus River and Harbors and Flood Control legislation. Both the House and the Senate have approved legislation to establish a Redwoods National Park and the main difference, which will be resolved by the conferees, is the question of size.

In the Rivers and Harbors Flood Control legislation, the House has approved a $1.6 billion program and the Senate a $2 billion program.

Happy Athletes Really Dig Tahoe's Weather

By John Wehrheim

How are Olympic hopefuls reacting to their new summer home?

"Great!" said Preston Davis, member of the Army track team and 1,500-meter contender. "I'd like to keep coming back here for another 50 summers," added the former University of Texas star.

Preston won the Australian 1,500-meter championship this March with a 3:40 clocking — metric equivalent to a 3:57 mile. However, he is now recovering from a leg injury and will not be able to compete in Saturday's trials.

Beside being an outstanding track man, Preston is also an avid golfer and can usually be found on the Tahoe Paradise course between his two daily workouts. He shoots in the low 70s.

Another member of the Army team, Tom Farrell, the top 800-meter man in the 1964 Olympics, and one of this year's strongest contenders added, "This is the second summer in a row Preston and I have trained in Tahoe and we love it. The people up here are really going out of their way for us."

Community support seems to be the key behind the athletes' general satisfaction with Tahoe as an Olympic training site.

Jack Daniels, team physiologist doing an extensive study on the effect of high altitude, said, "The people of Tahoe have gone to their fullest to make things as good as possible for our athletes and everyone connected with the Olympic effort."

Jim Kemp, 400-meter man with a best mark of 45.3 in the quarter, is impressed with the area — especially its scenic beauty — but he complained of the altitude. "I've never had to work so hard for a decent time before," he said.

1965 NCAA 440-champ, Kemp also praised the people of Tahoe for their cooperation. "They've really gone out of their way to help us find housing and jobs," said the former Kentucky State star.

Art Walker, America's finest triple jumper with a mark of 55'1-3/4", said, "This is a lot better than what I'm used to in Los Angeles." Walker, a member of the Southern Cal Striders, found Tahoe to have one outstanding quality for a Los Angeleno, "No smog."

However, not all the athletes were content. Jerry Richey and Sam Bair, both hopefuls in the 1,500-meter event, complained that transportation for the distance runners living at the Echo Summit site leaves much to be desired.

"You're really stuck out here if you don't have a car," said Richey, "if you can get there."

Bair, former Kent State standout. "I imagine Tahoe is great,"

WORKING WIFE — Jean Wilborn, wife of Olympic hopeful Dave Wilborn, a 1,500-meter runner from the University of Oregon, keeps busy selling tickets for competitive events and daily workouts while her husband practices. ## Tahoe-Truckee Water Quality Probe Planned

PROF. WENDELL A. MORDY
Director,
Desert Research Institute
University of Nevada System,
Reno

A new scientific project to investigate water quality in the Tahoe-Truckee system is to be undertaken by Dr. John V.A. Sharp of Nevada's Center for Water Resources Research.

The project will be funded by the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration of the Department of Interior, Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., has announced.

With the increased population of the Lake Tahoe-Truckee Meadows system, it is becoming more and more important to keep track of the changes in the water quality in this region. The specific objectives of the new study by Dr. Sharp are to learn how much water quality varies from time to time and place to place throughout this part of the State.

In addition ot this, Dr. Sharp will be determining the climatic, geologic and hydrologic environmental factors involved, as well as the human factors which control the quality of water.

He will also hopefully develop a model of the way the river basin works, which will describe in quantitative terms all the factors effecting water qyality. This model should be extremely useful in predicting the future influences and patterns of water quality upon which Northern Nevada is so dependent.

This model will be silulated on the Sigma 7 computer, recently installed in the Desert Research Institute. This means that, similar to other work done by the Center for Water Resources Research, time can be speeded up 100 to 1000 times to look at the future of water resources in Nevada, as represented by the mathematical models conceived of by our scientists.

This will make it possible to predict the effects of man's actions, either in increasing or decreasing pollution, and to control quality by scheduling water releases from the various available sources to arrive at acceptable water quality.

The grant is funded the first year at the rate of $37,450, and is a fine recognition of Dr. Sharp's professional competence and reputation in the field of water pollution work.

The program will continue for three years under the initial grant, and if it is as successful as is expected, it may be continued after that time.

Firm Requests Tahoe Water

TAHOE CITY — A request for a 15-year permit to take water from Lake Tahoe and tributarities of Martis Creek near Truckee has been made by Trimont Land Co., a subsidiary of Fibreboard Corp., to the California State Water Resource Control Board.

The board will keep its record of the hearing open for 30 days for more information and should render a decision "in several months."

The water would serve 25,000 acres in the Tahoe Basin and Martis Valley.

A temporary reservoir and a permanent reservoir are proposed to serve the area.

The water board will determine if objectors or downstream users would suffer if the water rights are approved.

SKATING STARS — Julie McKinstry, 11, and Charlie Ticknor, 14, were among those skating in last week's ice show at Squaw Valley. Both young stars are defending champions training in Squaw Valley Summer Figure Skating School and will defend their titles during the Central Pacific Coast Championships in November which will also be held at Squaw Valley.

Squaw Valley Arena Busy

The Olympic Ice Arena in Squaw Valley is experiencing the most successful skating season with an increase in activities over last year. This weekend, July 27-28, the first official tests will be given by the U.S. Figure Skating Association for the participants in the Squaw Valley Summer Figure Skating School under the direction of Jimmy Grogan.

Squaw Valley has just been awarded the Central Pacific Coast Figure Skating Championships to be held in the Olympic Valley Ice Arena on Nov. 14 and 15. It is the second year in a row that Squaw Valley has been selected as the site for the championships.

The ice shows of the Squaw Valley Summer Figure Skating School held on Wednesdays at 7 p.m. are open to spectators, tourists, convention delegates and local residents — and will continue until Labor Day.

The Olympic Ice Arena is open for public skating for beginners, intermediate and advanced skaters and the Learn to Skate Special every day from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Man's Had Back Troubles Ever Since Caveman Days

Ever since man stood upright, he's had trouble . . . mainly with his lumbar region.

By walking on his hind legs, man puts the entire weight of his upper body on the lower part of his spine . . . and that's where the much touted "nagging backache" comes in.

Much of it can be avoided by careful posture, exercise, and proper sleeping habits.

An overweight person who lets the stomach muscles get slack puts an extra strain on the lumbar region.

And, sleeping on a sagging mattress weakens muscles and ligaments and causes low grade backache, say the medical researchers.

To compound man's problems . . . he's growing. Studies show a definite generation-by-generation increase in both height and weight of Americans over the last 50 years.

Back at the turn of the century, only 4 per cent of men in the 20 to 29 age bracket were in the 6-foot category. Today, 20 per cent of American males in the same age group top the 6-foot mark.

This has instituted some needed changes in living space, particularly the bedroom, that may go a long way in easing the strain on man's aching back. The old-fashioned, undersized double bed, the 53-inch wide "cramper" is going out.

The new standard people-size kings, queens, and long twins are in. Built for today's bigger people, they allow the extra unwinding room that is recommended for healthful, restful sleeping.

Other tips from medical men: Sleep on your side — not your stomach. Flex the knees when picking up even light objects. When sitting, keep feet flat on the floor and the knees bent. Push the car seat forward when driving. It relieves tension on that tender lower back.

Do get rid of that old, sagging, undersize mattress.

Properly Maintained Swim Pools — Key To A Healthy Fun-Filled Summer

Doctors in California see many cases of irritation and infection of eyes, ears, nose, throat, and skin traceable to improperly maintained private pools, and accidents (including drowning) to children continue to occur.

To safely enjoy the health and recreational benefits of your pool, it is only common sense to follow many of the rules governing public facilities.

For example:

Safety:

1) Fencing or covering — when adults or competent older youngsters are not present, be sure your pool is adequately fenced or covered to keep younger children from danger. They should never be left to use the pool without supervision.

2) Depth markers — depth of water should be plainly marked at shallowest and deepest points and (no more than 25 feet apart) at depth changes in larger pools. To prevent small children from suddenly stepping off a ledge into deep water there should be no break in the gradual slope until a depth of five feet is reached.

3) Handholds, ladders, steps — where overflow gutters do not serve the purpose, there should be a handhold not more than 9 inches above normal water level. Steps or ladders should be provided if the distance from the bottom of the pool to poolside is over 2 feet. Treads should be non-slip.

4) Walks — paved surface around the pool should be non-slip and adequately drained away from the pool.

5) Lighting — if pool is to be used at night, it should have underwater lighting that will light the bottom and entire volume of the pool with no blind spots, or equally effective overhead lighting.

Waterproofing of circuits should be checked by a competent electrician at the beginning of each summer season.

Bill To Aid Snow Removal: Assembly O.K.

The Assembly this week approved Senate Bill 615 by a unanimous vote and sent it to the Governor.

This action ends a two year fight to obtain increased funds for mountain counties and cities to aid them in handling the spiraling costs of snow removal.

I introduced a similar bill last year to provide more funds for counties and cities, but it was so drastically amended in committee that in the end the only benefit to the Third District was that the measure permitted the state to plow a portion of road in Nevada County near Donner Summit.

This session, Senator Randolph Collier introduced SB 615 which I co-authored.

This bill provides $1 million to be apportioned to counties for snow removal costs and for the first time includes money for snow removal in cities.

The bill will allow counties to recover up to 80 per cent of their snow removal costs in excess of $5,000 computed on a three year average. For cities, the bill provides a $500,000 apportionment to cities.

Under this provision, the bill would allow an annual allocation to each city which reported expenditures for snow removal in excess of $5,000 during the preceding fiscal year. Cities may obtain up to 50 per cent of their costs over $5,000.

State contributions for snow removal aid come from the Motor Vehicle Fuel tax fund. I am happy to see this measure passed for it will be a big help in relieving counties and cities of the steadily growing costs of snow removal on roads in areas that are experiencing more and more all-year use due to opening of new living areas and recreation sites.

Final Senate approval is expected soon on Assembly Bill 1591 which was authored by Assemblyman Chapple and myself.

This measure declares a moratorium on interest payments until 1971-72 on state loans made to the South Tahoe, North Tahoe, Tahoe City Public Utility Districts and the Truckee Sanitary District.

These four districts are engaged in sewage export projects at Lake Tahoe and the moratorium on interest payments will permit them to proceed on schedule with the work.

Payment of interest at this time could interrupt the projects.

Under the bill, the accrued interest during the moratorium will be paid back in equal annual installments during the remainder of the loan repayment period.

I will be handling a bill before the Senate soon which will permit a $10,000 loan to the 20th District Agricultural Association Fair in Auburn.

The Assembly measure will permit the fair to use the $10,000 it gained from the sale of real property and paid into the Fair and Exposition Fund for operating expenses instead of capital outlay as provided by current law.

The funds must be paid back, but will be used now to help the fair over temporary financial difficulties.

Newspaper Stories Carried On Television All Day At Placerville

PLACERVILLE — Some 700 cable television subscribers in Placerville are reading local news on television screens as an experimental project conducted by Valley Vision Cable TV Co. and the Placerville Mountain Democrat.

At any time of the day or night, cable television subscribers in Placerville can turn on Channel 4, a free channel in Placerville, and read about up-to-the-minute happenings in the area, including fires, auto wrecks, deaths, the latest actions of local governing bodies, announcements and anything else they might read later in a newspaper, often with pictures.

The news runs continuously throughout the day, broken every 8-1/2 minutes for 1-1/2 minutes of weather.

The electronic newspaper is the invention of Robert Cooper, an engineer with Valley Vision Cable TV, who calls it "Tell-a-Channel." His company, Tell-a-Channel Corp., hopes to sell the service on a nationwide basis to community antenna and cable television systems, news services, motel chains and others.

Tell-a-Channel is a seven-foot-high electronic and mechanical apparatus composed mainly of television broadcasting gear which scans a moving conveyor belt. Cards, on which news items are typed, are slipped into the belt. The camera scans the printed material and broadcasts it throughout Placerville over the television cable.

The news is kept current by the news staff of the weekly Mountain Democrat, where the machine is housed. As events occur or as organizations call in announcements, the staff prepares items in news form on the cards and inserts them into the belt.

Larry Belanger, editor-publisher of the Mountain Democrat, said his newspaper is cooperating to help promote a promising experiment locally. He said when the machine has proven itself, it will be removed.

Belanger said he has no way of knowing how many of the 700 cable TV subscribers read the electronic newspaper. However, during special local events, such as the recent local elections, the newspaper office is flooded with calls generated by the television service. He said it was the best instant source for local election returns.

William Baker, general manager of Valley Vision and a stockholder in Tell-a-Channel Corp., said the possibilities of the invention are "unlimited."

The original idea that brought about the invention was a proposed service at Lake Tahoe to disseminate ski information, weather and related news through motels in the lake basin during the skiing season.

Baker said the machine could be offered to community antenna systems on a lease or sale basis and the community antenna concern could then sell advertising along with the news.

A smaller, desk size model is being produced which could be placed on a newspaper editor's desk to help promote the newspaper. Baker suggested that the newspaper could issue bulletins and encourage viewers to read the details in the next edition of the newspaper. Classified advertising, promotional ads and other announcements also could be inserted.

Baker said items in trade journals have produced more than a dozen responses from concerns throughout the nation inquiring about the cost and availability of the service.

Cost figures have not been accurately determined since the project is still in an experimental state. But discussions are being held with an eastern firm on mass production of the machine, Valley Vision's general manager said.

No accurate survey has been made in Placerville by the firm to determine readership and response to the service. However, general response to Tell-a-Channel has been favorable and the company is encouraged, Baker said.

"This project looks like it's going to prove out very well and when it does, Placerville will be known as 'the birthplace of the electronic newspaper,'" Baker said.

Coordinating Council Helps In Search

South Tahoe Coordinating Council, headed by Vernon Cox, proved its ability for fast action when two youths were reported missing on Lake Tahoe.

The youths were found drowned hours later, but due to the council's action, boats were speedily on the lake and searching, Cox said.

Cox said he got a call from South Lake Tahoe police about 11 p.m. July 18. Cox then contacted Hal Lock, vice-commodore of the South Tahoe Boat Club and in 40 minutes six boats were on the water, manned by at least 12 men, Cox said.

Working with police, and the U.S. Coast Guard a systematic search was conducted by making two round-trip sweeps from the vicinity of Surf and Sands Marina to near the Nevada shore, Cox said.

Cox said boat club and council members stopped searching at 3 a.m. At 6:30 a.m. one boat club boat resumed the search — other persons had to work — working with the police boat. At 10:30 a.m. the boat club boat quit the search.

It was not long after that police got reports of the bodies floating near Emerald Bay entrance and recovered them.

County Officials Parley About New Highway 49 Sites

PLACERVILLE — Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson, D-Roseville, was brought up to date recently regarding relocation of Highway 49.

Visiting Johnson at Washington, D.C., were Wesley C. Worrell, chairman of the El Dorado County Board of Supervisors; Raymond Lawyer, El Dorado County fourth district supervisor; Bruce W. Robinson, El Dorado County planning director; Robert Mahan, chairman of the Placer County Board of Supervisors; Will Jones, Placer County supervisor; John Maccoun, Placer County director of public works; and Jim Stearns, director of the Department of Conservation of California.

Johnson said he would cooperate in seeing the counties and California get reasonable treatment in negotiations with the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation after the California Highway Commission selects a new route for Highway 49.

Johnson pledged support for replacement of the Ruck-A-Chucky bridge and other upper crossings to be inundated by the dam project.

Candidate Asks Public Debate

RENO — A public debate of issues in the U.S. Senate race has again been urged by GOP candidate William Raggio — this time in a personal letter to his primary opponent, Ed Fike.

Nevada State Press Association is currently polling its members to determine if a debate would be feasible. That organization was requested to establish ground rules for such a debate.

OREGON GREAT -- Wade Bell, former University of Oregon standout, and now representing the Oregon Track Club will compete Saturday at Echo Summit. Bell, from Ogden, Utah, won the 800-meter run in the Pan-American Games last year and was top finisher in Los Angeles a month ago in an Olympic qualifying meet.

California-Nevada Pact Divides Sierra Water

RENO — California has joined Nevada in clearing the way for approval of a document dividing Sierra water between the states.

When the Joint California-Nevada Interstate Compact Commission adopts the compact at today's 61st meeting of the bi-state water negotiators, the first major hurdle will have been cleared in a more than 12-year search for an equitable allocation of the interstate waters.

Two other formidable hurdles still block an effective date for the compact. First, the agreement reached today must be ratified by the legislatures of each state. Then Congress must give its consent to the compact and agree to abide by its provisions.

Although the negotiations now are in the 13th year of give and take in hammering out the agreement, this compact is perhaps the most complex ever attempted. Never before in the nation has an attempt been made to compact a major lake and three separate river systems in a single document.

The state legislatures and agencies of the federal government will be asked to accept a compact dividing between California and Nevada the waters of Lake Tahoe and the Truckee, Carson and Walker rivers.

The Lake Tahoe basin would get 34,000 acre feet of water a year with no restrictions whatever on how that water is used. The allocation is well in excess of the amount presently being diverted in the basin and any sewage effluent can be pumped out of the basin up to the maximum diversion regardless of whether this adversely affects downstream Truckee River water users.

From the Truckee which drains Tahoe, California gets a second priority to divert annually up to enough water to cover 10,000 acres of land one foot deep. It also can consumptively use another block of water exceeding 6,000 acre feet.

The first priority on the river is more than 30,000 acre feet for agricultural use on the Pyramid Lake Paiute Indian Reservation. The remainder of the river's flow which averages about 500,000 acre feet would go to Nevada until California has used up its allocation. At that time, California could develop more upstream storage providing it did not adversely affect any water uses in Nevada which were legal at that time.

Both states expect strenuous objections from the federal government to certain provisions of the compact. But they feel the United States must agree to abide by some of the terms or there would be no water left to compact.

Many federal agency objections to the 1965 provisional compact are no longer applicable because of extensive revisions since that time and because all reference to water quality has been deleted in view of the new federal Water Quality Control Act.

But considerable federal objection still exists. The commission today was expected to bow to a few of those objections and approve justification as to why most of them should be overruled.

BEAUTIES VISIT TAHOE — Mrs. United States Savings Bond, Mrs. Rory Bowring, and her husband shared a table with Dorie Damuth, Miss Nevada, last weekend when both contest winners attended the Danny Thomas Show at Harrah's Club at Lake Tahoe.

Bridge Near Truckee Will Be Replaced

The deck of a bridge on Interstate 80 freeway in Nevada County in the section between Truckee and the Nevada state line will be replaced by the California Division of Highways and bids on the project were opened this week.

Low among six bidders is A. Teichert & Son Inc. of Sacramento, submitting a proposal of $77,021, according to officials at the Marysville district office.

This section of the trans-Sierra freeway was one of the first units built and the continuing abrasive action of tire chains and salt has, over the past decade, deteriorated the riding surface of the bridge.

Part of the Hinton Road overcrossing seven miles east of Truckee will be repaired under this contract. The work involves both eastbound lanes.

A major detour will be constructed before reconstruction gets under way.

Traffic will be diverted to the north (westbound) structure with both directions of travel reduced to a single lane.

Forty working days are allotted for the project which is expected to be completed by November.

Death In Boating Mishaps Showing Sharp Increase

SACRAMENTO -- The State Department of Harbors and Watercraft this week, released its boat accident figures for the first six months of 1968.

The death toll was up to 53, injuries to 95, and property damage to $471,000, compared with the 38 deaths, 53 injuries and $352,000 damage reported for the first six months of 1967.

Of 266 accidents reported, 97 show vessels colliding with other vessels, 54 striking other objects or running aground, 59 capsizing, sinking or flooding, and 26 damaged from fire or explosion.

Almost half the accidents occurred on tidal waters, with the remainder divided between the ocean and inland lakes and streams. The figures show mishaps involved a total of 362 vessels. Of these, 136 were open motorboats, 90 cabin cruisers, and 104 sailing vessels including auxiliaries.

Analysis of the individual reports indicated that over half of the accidents were attributable to operator fault, particularly failure to keep a proper lookout.

New Rules Outlined For Washoe Fair Arts Entries

RENO — Because the 15-year-old Washoe County Agricultural and Industrial Fair becomes the Nevada State Fair Sept. 11-15, and to promote more general participation in the fine arts exhibit, rules for entries have been revised and modernized.

In the past, entries had been limited to artists living in a five-county western Nevada area. This year, entries are open to living artists from the entire state with a maximum of two in any media. Work must be original and unsupervised, not shown previously in a Nevada Artists Association competitive shows.

Cash awards and ribbons will be presented without reference to media by the Nevada State Fair Board. Best of Show: first, $25; second, $20, and third, $15.

There also will be an unspecified number of special merit awards which will be designated by the judges at their discretion and merchandise certificates from commercial supporters as well as ribbons. Entries will be grouped by media for the judges' consideration.

The fee is $1.50 per entry, not returnable if work is not accepted by the panel of jurors. No shipped works will be accepted. All work must be dry, wired for hanging and protected by glass if a graphic or watercolor.

Entries have no size limitation, but the committee may refuse to hang any work too large for the available space. The Nevada State Fair Board and the Nevada Artists Association reserve the right to remove any work not in the best interest of either organization.

Judging and hanging of entries will be Sept. 10 and will be received at the National Guard Armory building at the fairgrounds off North Wells Avenue the previous day.

The Fabulous

COIT MELON

Produce experts consider this cantaloupe to be the finest grown in the United States. It is sweeter because it ripens on the vine. Coit Melons have 18% more natural sweetness. More flavor. They're juicier. Sold exclusively at Raley's.
